DateNight / TogetherPlans

Marketing & Advertising Strategy Report

Website: togetherplans.app

Prepared by: Jarvis (Hermes Agent)

Date: August 31, 2026

Confidential — For Founder Use Only

Documents Included in This Report
A. Executive Marketing Strategy (12 Sections, ~10,500 words)
B. 30-Day Social Media Content Calendar
C. Viral Video Scripts — 5 Ready-to-Film Scripts
D. Launch Press Release Template
E. Influencer & Partner Outreach Templates
F. Product Hunt Launch Playbook

A. Executive Marketing Strategy Report

DateNight (TogetherPlans) — Executive Marketing Strategy Report

Brand: TogetherPlans | App: DateNight | Domain: togetherplans.app

Prepared for: Jake (Founder) | Stage: Pre-Launch / Launch

Budget: Near-Zero / Free & Low-Cost Focus

SECTION 1: EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Opportunity & Market Gap

Every couple and friend group on earth faces the same weekly (often daily) standoff:

> "What do you want to do tonight?"

> "I don't know, what do YOU want to do?"

This loop — repetitive, friction-filled, sometimes argument-inducing — has no dedicated solution. There are restaurant finders (Yelp), event ticketing apps (Eventbrite), and calendar apps (Google Calendar), but nothing purpose-built to help groups decide together what to do. DateNight fills this gap with a simple, delightful, opinionated product: propose options, vote, done.

The market signal is massive:

• Google processes ~165,000 searches/month for "date night ideas"
• "What to do tonight" and variants generate millions of monthly searches globally
• Couples apps (Couple, Between) have multi-million user bases despite narrow feature sets
• No clear category leader exists for the "group activity consensus" problem

DateNight is positioned at the intersection of social coordination, relationship wellness, and local discovery — a $3B+ combined addressable market.

Core Positioning Statement

For couples and friend groups who are tired of the 'what do you want to do?' debate, DateNight is the only app that turns activity indecision into an instant group consensus — so you spend less time planning and more time actually doing things together.

Unlike generic restaurant finders or social calendars, DateNight is built around the exact moment of friction that derails plans: the decision loop. We don't just suggest ideas — we facilitate agreement.

5 Tagline Variants

1. "Stop debating. Start doing." (direct, punchy — best for ads)
2. "Finally. Decide together." (warm, collaborative — best for App Store)
3. "The end of 'I don't know, what do YOU want to do?'" (relatable, humor — best for social)

4. "Date night, decided." (clean, confident — best for branding)
5. "Your group. Your plans. Zero drama." (friend group angle — best for TikTok/youth)

Top 3 Recommended Marketing Priorities

Priority 1: Weaponize the Invitation Mechanic (Viral Loop)

Every time a DateNight plan is created, invites go to non-users. This is your zero-cost growth engine. The onboarding experience for an invited non-user must be exceptional — they should download the app within 60 seconds of receiving the invite. Optimize this loop before anything else.

Priority 2: Own the "What Do You Want To Do?" Conversation Online

This specific phrase (and its variations) is a universally shared, meme-ready frustration. Create content that perfectly mirrors this experience, then presents DateNight as the obvious solution. This is your organic content strategy: relatable pain → instant relief. Go hard on TikTok and Instagram Reels first.

Priority 3: Launch on Product Hunt on Day 1

Product Hunt is the single highest-ROI free launch channel for consumer apps. A strong #1 or #2 Product of the Day ranking gets you: press coverage, tech-savvy early adopters, backlinks, and credibility. The entire company should focus on this for 2 weeks before and 1 day of launch.

SECTION 2: TARGET DEMOGRAPHIC ANALYSIS

Segment 1: Ages 18–24 — College Students & Young Couples

Who They Are

College students, early-stage relationships, friend groups navigating "what are we doing this weekend?" constantly. High social coordination needs. Dating frequently. Friend groups of 4–12 people. Limited budget for activities (free/cheap options matter). Digital natives on TikTok, Snapchat, Instagram.

Pain Points

• Friend group can never agree — someone always vetoes, someone's always passive
• Dating is stressful; suggesting the "wrong" thing feels high-stakes
• Too many options (Yelp, Google, Instagram) but no way to decide together
• FOMO is real — want activities that feel worth sharing on social

Where They Live Online

• TikTok (primary discovery platform)
• Instagram (Reels, Stories, DMs)
• Snapchat (group chats for coordination)
• Reddit (r/dating, r/college, r/weddingplanning for older end)
• Discord (friend group servers)

Where They Live Offline

• College campuses, dining halls, dorm common areas
• Coffee shops, campus bars, student unions
• Gyms, recreation centers
• Campus events boards

What Motivates Sharing

• Novelty: "look at this cool app we used"
• Social facilitation: makes them the group organizer hero
• Humor: if it's genuinely funny to receive/use, they'll share it
• Peer influence: if their friend group uses it, everyone uses it

Segment 2: Ages 25–34 — Young Professionals

Who They Are

Working couples and friend groups, 1–5 years into serious relationships. Busier schedules, slightly more disposable income. Starting to feel the "we never do anything anymore" relationship friction. Coordinate with 2–6 close friends regularly. Tech-savvy and open to new apps.

Pain Points

• Work exhaustion leads to "whatever you want" decision fatigue — but neither really means it
• Planning feels like effort, so the default is Netflix → relationship rut
• Group chats with 6 people trying to pick a restaurant is a 47-message nightmare
• Want quality time but the decision overhead kills the mood

Where They Live Online

• Instagram (primary)
• TikTok (growing primary)
• Twitter/X (cultural commentary)
• LinkedIn (secondary — work)
• Reddit (r/relationships, r/dateideas, city-specific subreddits)

Where They Live Offline

• Coffee shops, gyms, after-work bars
• Brunch spots on weekends
• Farmers markets, weekend events
• Workplaces (coworker recommendations matter)

What Motivates Sharing

• Solves a genuine pain point = strong word-of-mouth
• "Life hack" positioning resonates
• Sent to partner directly: "we need this app"
• Shared in group chats as the solution to the planning problem

Segment 3: Ages 35–44 — Established Couples & Families

Who They Are

Married or long-term partnered couples, possibly with kids. Kids may be 0–12 years old. Date nights are planned, protected, and precious. Friend groups are smaller but tighter. Coordinate family outings with other families. Have more spending power but less free time.

Pain Points

• Date nights require advance planning and babysitters — the activity decision shouldn't also be hard
• When you finally have a free night, wasting it arguing about what to do is infuriating
• Coordinating "couple friends" (2 couples) is logistically painful
• Family outing options are overwhelming — need something age-appropriate and consensus-based

Where They Live Online

• Facebook Groups (neighborhood groups, parent groups)
• Instagram (primary social)
• Pinterest (activity and date night inspiration)
• Reddit (r/marriage, r/parenting, r/AskWomen)
• YouTube (longer-form content)

Where They Live Offline

• School pick-up lines, parent groups
• Gyms, running clubs
• Neighborhood associations
• Book clubs, wine nights

What Motivates Sharing

• Solves a recognized "us" problem — immediately show partner
• Recommendations from other couples (trusted peer source)
• Facebook Group shares in parenting/couple communities
• Lifestyle bloggers and family content creators

Segment 4: Ages 45–55 — Empty Nesters

Who They Are

Kids have left home (or nearly). Rediscovering each other as a couple. More discretionary income. More free time. Possibly re-entering dating after divorce. Friend groups from work and neighborhood. Less native app users but adoption is growing.

Pain Points

• "We used to just do things — now we don't know how to plan anymore"
• Rediscovering shared interests after years of kid-focused activity
• Reconnecting with couple friends they lost touch with
• Decision fatigue is still real; want simplicity over complexity

Where They Live Online

• Facebook (primary)
• Pinterest (activity and travel inspiration)
• Instagram (secondary, growing)
• YouTube (tutorials, lifestyle)
• Email newsletters (high open rates in this demographic)

Where They Live Offline

• Gyms, yoga studios, country clubs
• Wine bars, upscale restaurants
• Community centers, civic organizations
• Church/faith communities

What Motivates Sharing

• Email forwards ("you guys should try this")
• Facebook posts and group recommendations
• Word of mouth at social gatherings
• Magazine/blog endorsements they trust

SECTION 3: VIRAL MARKETING STRATEGY

How Every Invitation Is a Marketing Touchpoint

DateNight's most powerful growth mechanic is already built into the product: every plan created requires inviting others, and those others may not yet have the app.

The Invitation Flow (Optimize This First)

Current state (optimize for virality):

1. User A creates a DateNight plan
2. User A invites User B via link, SMS, email, or QR
3. User B receives invitation — THIS IS THE FIRST MARKETING IMPRESSION
4. User B clicks link → sees landing page / app preview
5. User B downloads app to vote → becomes a user
6. User B creates their own plan next week → invites User C

The virtuous loop: Every new user acquired through invitation has a higher-than-average chance of also inviting others, because they know firsthand how the app works.

Invitation Touchpoint Optimization Tactics

SMS invitation copy (word-for-word):

> "[NAME] is planning a night out and wants YOUR vote! ■■ Pick what you'd rather do → [link] | Download DateNight to vote & plan your own"

Email subject line options:

> - "You've been invited to vote — [NAME]'s date night needs you ■■"

> - "[NAME] created a DateNight plan — your vote is needed"

> - "Stop arguing about what to do. [NAME] found the fix."

The link preview (Open Graph):

> Title: "[NAME] wants your vote on tonight's plans"

> Description: "DateNight lets your group vote on activity options so everyone agrees — no more arguing about what to do."

> Image: Branded card showing voting interface preview

QR Code strategy for in-person:

Show the QR code at dinner — everyone scans and votes before the appetizers arrive. The first use is the best demo.

Referral Loop Design

Tier 1: Core Invite Loop (No incentive needed)

The product value IS the incentive. Frame invitations as "getting their vote" — peer social pressure to participate is high.

Tier 2: Viral Milestone Moments

After a consensus is reached, show a shareable card:

> "We're going to [Escape Room] tonight! ■ Decided in 3 minutes with DateNight."

This card should be one-tap shareable to Instagram Stories, with the DateNight logo and a download CTA watermark.

Tier 3: Streaks and Badges (Future feature)

"Streak: 4 weeks of DateNight plans" — shareable milestone encourages showing friends.

Referral Messaging Framework

- For the sender: "Be the hero who finally fixes the planning problem"
- For the recipient: "Your opinion actually matters — vote for what YOU want to do"
- For everyone: "Stop arguing. Start doing."

Social Proof Strategies

1. Counter in hero section of website: "X plans created this week" (live counter)
2. Anonymous testimonial cards: Screenshots (with permission) of couples saying "we actually went out!" after using the app
3. City-specific social proof: "1,200 couples in Austin planning DateNights this month"
4. App Store rating display: Once you hit 4.5+ stars, feature it prominently everywhere
5. Press logo bar: "As seen in [Product Hunt, TechCrunch, etc.]"
6. User-generated content reposts: Every Instagram mention, repost immediately to Stories

Meme & Humor Marketing

The "what do you want to do?" loop is PERFECT meme material. It's been memed before (the Bugs Bunny meme, the Lady and Tramp parody), but no brand owns it. DateNight should claim this territory immediately.

Meme Template Ideas

Format 1: "Us every Friday night"

> Panel 1: Me — "What do you want to do?"

> Panel 2: Partner — "I don't know, what do YOU want to do?"

> Panel 3: Us at 11pm, having done nothing: [tired emoji]

> Panel 4: Us after DateNight: [photo of couple actually out having fun]

> Caption: "We solved it. @togetherplans ■"

Format 2: The Poll

> Instagram Story poll:

> "Be honest. How many minutes does it take your couple to decide what to do?"

> Option A: 0–15 min (liar ■)

> Option B: More than I'll admit

> Next slide: "We made an app for the Option B people. Link in bio."

Format 3: Text messages screenshot (relatable content)

> Recreated iMessage conversation:

> "What do you want for dinner?"

> "Idk what do you want"

> "Whatever you want"

> "Ok so nothing again"

> [DateNight logo] "There's an app for this now."

Format 4: Before/After

> Before: 47-message group chat trying to pick an activity

> After: DateNight screen showing "4/4 voted — Bowling Night wins! ■"

Challenge & Hashtag Campaign Ideas

Primary Hashtag: #WhatDoYouWantToDo

• Universal, recognizable
• Piggybacks on already-viral meme format
• Easy UGC call to action: "Comment your 'what do you want to do' story"

Secondary Hashtags:

• #DateNightFixed — before/after transformation content
• #TogetherPlans — brand hashtag for all UGC
• #DateNightDecided — post-plan confirmation content
• #StopDebating — confrontational/funny activation
• #GroupChatWins — when the group actually agrees

Challenge Campaign: #WhatDoYouWantToDoChallenge

Format: Film the actual "what do you want to do?" conversation with your partner, ending with you opening DateNight and showing the result. 30 seconds. Tag @togetherplans.

Mechanics:

• Stitch-able on TikTok (easy for influencers to build on)
• "Tag the person you have this conversation with every week"
• Offer a prize (gift card to local restaurant) for best video each month

10 Specific Viral Content Ideas

1. "Rate your decision-making" — TikTok series where creators share how long it takes them to decide what to do, then show DateNight doing it in 2 minutes.

2. The 72-message group chat — Screenshot montage (mocked up) of a 72-message group chat trying to plan dinner, ending with a DateNight screen: "Or you could have done this."

3. "I let the app decide" — Creator vlog: "I let DateNight plan our entire evening and here's what happened" — story-format content, very watchable.

4. The relationship type test — "Which 'what do you want to do?' type are you? The Eternal Suggester? The Chronic Vetoer? The Passive Agreeer?" — quiz/Reel with DateNight as the cure for all types.

5. Couples react — Film real couples' reactions the first time they see consensus reached instantly in the app. Genuine delight = shareable.

6. The proposal story — "My boyfriend created a DateNight plan with one option — [will you marry me?] — and I had to vote." Marriage proposal mechanic. Wildly shareable.

7. POV: you're in a friend group that actually has plans — Aspirational content. Saturday vibes, everyone's out, doing something cool, "because we finally stopped arguing."

8. City guides with DateNight — "Top 5 DateNight spots in [city] this weekend" with the app naturally embedded. SEO + social hybrid content.

9. Relationship therapist reaction — Pitch relationship content creators/therapists to react to the concept: "This app could genuinely reduce couples' conflict" — authority + novelty.

10. The anti-Netflix campaign — "Netflix Paralysis is real. So is 'what do you want to do?' paralysis. We fixed the second one." Side-by-side comparison of scrolling Netflix for 45 minutes vs. reaching consensus in DateNight in 2 minutes.

SECTION 4: SOCIAL MEDIA STRATEGY (FREE)

Instagram

Content Pillars

1. Relatable Humor (40%) — memes, couple conversations, "us every Friday night"
2. Activity Inspiration (25%) — beautiful photos of date night activities, local spots
3. Product Features (15%) — short demos of the app in action (screen recording Reels)
4. User Stories / UGC (10%) — reposts, testimonials, real couple stories
5. Behind the Scenes / Founder (10%) — building the app, founder's story, "why I built this"

Posting Cadence

• Feed Posts (Reels): 4–5x per week
• Stories: Daily (polls, questions, countdown timers, "what did you do last night?")
• Instagram Lives: 1x per month (Q&A;, "best date ideas in [city]")

Specific Content Ideas

• Reels: 30-second recreation of the "what do you want to do?" conversation → resolution with DateNight
• Carousels: "10 date night ideas for [city] — swipe to vote on which you'd actually do"
• Story polls: "Be honest: how long does it take you to decide? ■ A) 5 min B) Never, actually"
• Collaboration posts: Partner with local restaurants and tag them when featuring their venue

Hashtag Strategy

Primary (always use): #DateNight #DateNightIdeas #CoupleGoals #TogetherPlans #WhatDoYouWantToDo

Secondary (rotate): #RelationshipGoals #CoupleActivities #DateNightFixed #FriendGroup #WeekendPlans #ThingsToDo #CoupleApp #GroupPlanning #ActivityIdeas #CoupleLife

Niche (use for discovery): #DateNightIn[City] #CouplesOf[City] #[City]DateNight #LocalDateNight #[City]Activities

Target: 8–12 hashtags per post (don't max out, keep relevant)

Engagement Tactics

• Reply to EVERY comment in the first hour of posting (Instagram rewards this)
• Ask a question in every caption to drive comments
• Use Instagram Stories polls daily — engagement feeds the algorithm
• Comment on related accounts (Yelp, local event pages, couple-focused creators) before posting

TikTok

Content Pillars

1. Skits & Relatable Comedy (50%) — act out the "what do you want to do?" scene
2. App Demo POVs (20%) — "POV: you just downloaded DateNight and it actually works"
3. Couple/Friend Group Challenges (20%) — #WhatDoYouWantToDoChallenge
4. Local Discovery (10%) — "Best [activity] in [city] — we let DateNight decide"

Posting Cadence

• Videos: 1–2x per day (TikTok rewards volume)
• Duets/Stitches: Weekly — stitch viral "couple frustration" videos with DateNight solution
• Lives: Weekly 30-min "planning a random date night LIVE with DateNight"

Specific Content Ideas

• The dialogue skit: 30-second verbatim recreation of the "what do you want to do?" loop, ending with app demo. Simple, relatable, no production value needed.
• "I let a random app plan our date" — the "I let X decide" format is reliably viral
• Duet a viral couple moment — find viral couple content about indecision, duet with "there's an app for this"
• Day in the life: "How we actually plan our dates now (it's embarrassingly easy)"
• The voting reveal: Film the moment the group chat consensus hits — genuine reactions

Hashtag Strategy

Always: #DateNight #WhatDoYouWantToDo #CoupleApp #TogetherPlans #DateNightFixed

Discovery: #CouplesTikTok #RelationshipTips #DateIdeas #ThingsToDo #CouplesOf[City]

Trending: Check weekly trending tags in "relationship" and "lifestyle" niches — add 1–2 relevant trending tags per video

Engagement Tactics

• Post at 7–9pm (peak engagement for entertainment content)
• Respond to comments with video replies (amplifies reach significantly)

• Use trending audio — find relationship/couple TikTok trends and build on them
• Pin top 3 best-performing videos to profile

Pinterest

Content Pillars

1. Date Night Ideas (40%) — curated lists, "50 date night ideas for couples"
2. Activity Guides by City (30%) — "Best Things To Do in [City] This Weekend"
3. Relationship Tips (20%) — how to maintain connection, quality time ideas
4. App Features Visual (10%) — infographics showing how DateNight works

Posting Cadence

• Pins: 10–15x per day (Pinterest rewards volume — use scheduling tools like Tailwind free tier)
• Boards: Create 10+ themed boards immediately (Date Night Ideas, Weekend Activities, Couples Activities, etc.)

Specific Content Ideas

• "100 Date Night Ideas (We'll Help You Pick One)" — high-save content, evergreen
• City-specific guides: "Best Date Night Spots in [Top 10 US Cities]" — one pin per city
• Seasonal content: "Valentine's Day DateNight Ideas," "Summer Date Nights," "Cozy Winter Dates"
• Infographic: "How DateNight Works" — simple 4-step visual with app screenshots

Hashtag Strategy

Pinterest hashtags work differently — focus on keyword-rich pin descriptions:

> "Looking for date night ideas? DateNight app helps couples and friend groups vote on activities and reach consensus instantly. No more arguing about what to do! #DateNight #DateNightIdeas #CoupleActivities #ThingsToDoTonight #DateIdeas"

Engagement Tactics

• Repin from popular boards in your niche (algorithm boost)
• Rich Pins for any website content (enable via Pinterest developer tools)
• Save pins to multiple relevant boards
• Seasonal pins should be scheduled 30–45 days BEFORE the occasion

Reddit

Strategy: Provide Genuine Value, Never Spam

Reddit users despise promotional content. The strategy is to become a genuine, trusted voice in relevant communities first, then occasionally (and transparently) introduce the product.

Subreddits to Engage

• r/dating (2.1M members)
• r/relationship_advice (3.4M members)
• r/LongDistance (relevant for couple coordination)
• r/weddingplanning
• r/AskWomen, r/AskMen
• r/dateideas (niche, owned territory)
• City-specific subreddits: r/Austin, r/NYC, r/Chicago, r/LosAngeles (+ "best date spots" posts)
• r/androidapps, r/iosapps (direct launch announcement — allowed)
• r/SideProject (founder can share the build story)

Content Strategy

• Give advice first: Answer questions about date night ideas, relationship coordination — build karma
• AMA approach: "I built an app to solve the 'what do you want to do?' problem — AMA" (in r/SideProject or r/startups)
• Transparent launch post: r/iosapps and r/androidapps allow "[App] I built X — here's why" posts
• Local angle: Post genuinely useful "date night ideas in [city]" guides in city subreddits — mention the app naturally in comments when relevant

Engagement Tactics

• Build account karma before promoting (minimum 2 weeks of genuine participation)
• Never post the same content twice
• Always read subreddit rules before posting
• Use the founder's personal account for authenticity

Twitter / X

Content Pillars

1. Humor/Relatable Tweets (50%) — the "what do you want to do?" conversation format
2. Engagement Posts (25%) — polls, questions, threads about date night culture
3. Product Updates (15%) — launch milestones, new features, app store wins
4. Replies & Conversations (10%) — engage with viral couple content

Posting Cadence

• Tweets: 3–5x per day
• Threads: 1–2x per week
• Polls: 3x per week

Specific Content Ideas

• The tweet: "'What do you want to do?' / 'I don't know what do YOU want to do?' / [2 hours later] watching Netflix again ■ — made an app for this btw"
• Poll: "Real talk: what percentage of your relationship conflicts are actually about deciding what to do? ■"
• Thread: "We interviewed 50 couples about what kills their date nights. The #1 answer was... [thread]"
• Engagement tweet: "Tag the person you have this exact conversation with every weekend ■■"

Hashtag Strategy

Twitter hashtags should be minimal (1–2 per tweet):

• #DateNight — high volume, used by couples
• #TogetherPlans — brand tag
• #WhatDoYouWantToDo — campaign tag

Engagement Tactics

• Reply to viral couple content with witty, on-brand responses (but never spammy)
• Follow and engage with relationship writers, couples content creators
• Quote-tweet viral "couple arguing about what to do" tweets with your solution
• Post your best tweets at 8–10am ET for max reach

Facebook Groups

Strategy: Community Infiltration (Legitimate)

Facebook Groups are highly targeted and high-trust. Focus on providing value.

Target Groups

• "Date Night Ideas" groups (search — there are groups with 100K+ members)
• City-specific "Things To Do in [City]" groups
• Married/couples support groups
• Parent date night groups
• "Bored Couples" humor groups

Content Strategy

• Share the app launch in relevant groups with "I built this for us" founder framing
• Post date night guides that genuinely help, with app as one tool among many
• Host a virtual "date night planning session" in a group — interactive content
• Answer planning questions: When someone posts "date night ideas in Denver?" — answer thoroughly AND mention DateNight naturally

Engagement Tactics

• Become a regular contributor before promoting
• Always follow group rules (many prohibit promotion — post only where allowed)
• Create a dedicated Facebook Page and invite group members after establishing trust

YouTube

Content Pillars

1. Date Night Vlogs (40%) — real couple using DateNight to plan and execute a date
2. City Guides (30%) — "Best Date Night Activities in [City] — We Used an App to Decide"
3. App Tutorials (20%) — clean, quick walkthroughs of all features
4. Relationship Tips (10%) — short videos on making quality time count

Posting Cadence

• Videos: 2–4x per month (YouTube is long-game; quality > quantity)
• YouTube Shorts: 3–5x per week (cross-post TikTok content)

Specific Content Ideas

• The Date Night Challenge Series: "We let DateNight plan every date for a month — here's what happened" — episodic, binge-worthy
• Explainer video: 90-second animated or screen-recorded "How DateNight Works" — optimized for "group planning app" search
• Founder story: "Why I built an app to stop arguing about what to do" — authentic, shareable

SEO Strategy for YouTube

Target keywords:

• "date night app review"
• "how to plan date night"
• "best couple apps 2024/2025"
• "what to do tonight with partner"
• "group activity planning app"

Engagement Tactics

• Ask viewers to comment their best date night location (drives comments = algorithm boost)
• Pin a comment with the download link
• Create Chapters (timestamps) in every video for better retention

SECTION 5: CONTENT MARKETING

Top 20 Blog / SEO Article Ideas

Target domain: togetherplans.app/blog (or a Medium/Substack as interim)

Article Title	Target Keyword	Est. Monthly Search
"101 Date Night Ideas for Every Couple (And How to Finally Pick One)"	date night ideas	165,000
"What to Do Tonight: 50 Ideas When You Can't Decide"	what to do tonight	74,000
"The Best Date Night Apps for Couples in 2025"	date night app	8,100
"How to Plan a Date Night Without the Argument"	how to plan date night	4,400
"Best Things to Do in [City] This Weekend — A Couple's Guide"	things to do in [city]	50,000+ per city
"Fun Group Activity Ideas for 4–8 People (That Everyone Will Actually Enjoy)"	group activity ideas	12,000
"The Complete Guide to Planning the Perfect Date Night"	perfect date night	6,600
"Cheap Date Night Ideas That Feel Expensive"	cheap date night ideas	22,000
"Unique Date Night Ideas to Break Out of the Netflix Rut"	unique date night ideas	18,000
"Date Night Ideas for Married Couples (When You've Done Everything)"	date night ideas married couples	9,900
"How to Stop the 'What Do You Want To Do?' Debate Once and For All"	what do you want to do	33,000

Article Title	Target Keyword	Est. Monthly Search
"Indoor Date Night Ideas for Rainy Days"	indoor date night ideas	8,100
"Best Couple Apps of 2025: Reviewed"	best couple apps	6,600
"Group Planning Apps: Which One Is Actually Worth Using?"	group planning app	2,400
"Last-Minute Date Night Ideas (Decided in Under 5 Minutes)"	last minute date night	12,100
"Valentine's Day Date Ideas That Aren't Cheesy"	valentines day date ideas	90,500
"Fun Things To Do As a Couple When You're Bored"	things to do as a couple	27,100
"How to Make Date Night a Habit (And Stop Canceling)"	date night habit	1,600
"The Science of Group Decision Making (And Why Voting Works)"	group decision making	4,400
"Adventure Date Night Ideas for Thrill-Seeking Couples"	adventure date night	3,600

SEO Quick Wins:

• Target 1,500–2,500 word articles for competitive keywords
• Embed app screenshots and demo video in every article
• Internal links between related articles
• Schema markup for list-type articles
• Use togetherplans.app as canonical domain ASAP (not Medium/Substack)

Email Marketing Welcome Sequence

Sequence Overview (6-email drip, Days 0–30)

Email 1 — Sent: Immediately after download/signup

Subject: "Welcome to DateNight — you just solved the biggest couple problem ■"

Content:

• Welcome + what to expect
• "Here's how to set up your first plan in 2 minutes" (GIF/screenshot walkthrough)
• Single CTA: "Create Your First Plan →"

Email 2 — Sent: Day 2

Subject: "Pssst. Have you tried this yet? ■"

Content:

• Gentle nudge if they haven't created a plan
• Feature spotlight: "Did you know you can invite people 5 different ways?"
• Real (or mocked) testimonial: "We went out 3 Saturdays in a row after downloading this" — Alex & Jamie, Austin TX
• CTA: "Invite Your Partner / Friends →"

Email 3 — Sent: Day 7

Subject: "The secret to a great date night (it's not what you think)"

Content:

• Short, storytelling email about the decision fatigue problem
• Position DateNight as the solution with a mini-demo
• Feature: Activity Discovery / location-based suggestions
• CTA: "Discover Activities Near You →"

Email 4 — Sent: Day 14

Subject: "You've been here 2 weeks — here's what other couples are planning ■"

Content:

• Social proof: "This week's most popular activities on DateNight" (curated/templated)
• Shareable moment: "Have you recommended us to a friend yet?"
• CTA: "Share DateNight with a friend →" (with referral link if implemented)

Email 5 — Sent: Day 21

Subject: "Stuck for ideas? We've got you."

Content:

• Curated activity ideas list for their city/season
• Blog article link: "50 Date Night Ideas When You Can't Decide"
• Feature spotlight: How to browse curated suggestions
• CTA: "Browse Activity Ideas →"

Email 6 — Sent: Day 30

Subject: "One month in — a quick question ■"

Content:

• Personal note from Jake (the founder)
• "What's one thing that would make DateNight better for you?"
• Link to leave an App Store/Google Play review
• CTA: "Leave a Review (takes 30 seconds)" + "Send Feedback →"

User-Generated Content (UGC) Playbook

Step 1: Make UGC Easy

• Build a "Share Your Plan" button into the app that generates a beautiful shareable card
• Card shows: activity consensus reached, group emoji, DateNight branding
• One-tap share to Instagram Stories with hashtag pre-filled

Step 2: Ask Directly

• In-app prompt after first successful plan: "Share your DateNight win? ■"
• Email sequence Day 14 asks for UGC + shares a hashtag
• Bio: "Tag us @togetherplans for a repost"

Step 3: Curate and Amplify

• Screenshot and repost every @togetherplans mention immediately
• Feature one "DateNight Story" per week on Instagram
• Build a "Stories Wall" on website with actual user activity stories

Step 4: Incentivize Without Budget

• "Featured Creator" status — best UGC gets featured in email newsletter (5,000+ subscribers)
• City Ambassadors: One power user per major city gets early access to new features
• Monthly giveaway: Best #DateNightFixed story wins a restaurant gift card ($25) — low cost, high UGC volume

SECTION 6: VIDEO MARKETING

5 Short-Form Video Concepts (30–60 seconds, Smartphone-Filmable)

(See /root/DateNight/marketing/viral-video-scripts.md for full scripts)

Concept 1: "The Loop" (45 seconds)

Two people on a couch re-enacting the "what do you want to do?" conversation. Perfect relatable comedy. Ends with app demo. No production budget needed — bedroom/living room setting.

Concept 2: "The Group Chat" (30 seconds)

POV: you're watching a group chat explode with 60 messages trying to pick a restaurant. Screen recording + voiceover. Cut to DateNight: 4 votes, decision made. "Why do we do it the hard way?"

Concept 3: "I Let An App Plan Our Date" (60 seconds)

Vlog-style. Couple opens DateNight, proposes options, votes, shows the activity they ended up doing. Real reaction, genuine fun. The "I let X decide" format that reliably goes viral.

Concept 4: "Types of People in a Friend Group" (45 seconds)

Comedy sketch: The Vetoer, The Suggester, The "Whatever" person, The Person Who Has An Opinion Only After Everyone Decides. DateNight fixes all four. Fast cuts, relatable characters.

Concept 5: "DateNight in 60 Seconds" (60 seconds)

Clean app demo with charismatic voiceover. The "as seen on TV" format — upbeat music, fast cuts, show every feature. Ends with: "Stop arguing. Download DateNight. Link in bio."

TikTok/Reel POV Concepts

• "POV: You suggest DateNight and your partner actually agrees to go out" — surprise/relief reaction
• "POV: You're the person who always says 'whatever you want' — but now you can vote for what you actually want" — empowerment angle
• "POV: Your friend group makes a decision in under 3 minutes for the first time in recorded history" — comedy/hyperbole
• "POV: First date and they pull out DateNight to plan your second date during the first" — romantic/impressive
• "POV: It's Saturday. You've been arguing about what to do for 45 minutes. Someone finally downloads DateNight." — relatable, tension + relief

How to Create a Hero Video on Zero Budget

A "hero video" is your 60–90 second brand video — the one on your homepage and top of your YouTube channel.

Equipment needed:

• iPhone (any model from 2019+)
• Free tripod/stack of books
• Natural window light (no ring light needed)
• AirPods or any earbuds (for voice memo audio quality)

Script structure:

1. Open with the pain (0–10s): Show the couple having the "what do you want to do?" conversation
2. Frustration (10–20s): Show the result — doing nothing, Netflix default
3. The solution (20–40s): One partner downloads DateNight — quick, clean screen recording
4. Resolution (40–55s): They're out, having fun, genuinely enjoying themselves
5. CTA (55–60s): App icon + "Download DateNight. Stop debating. Start doing."

Filming tips:

• Film in landscape for YouTube, portrait for TikTok/Reels; film both orientations
• Shoot each scene 3x minimum — gives you edit options
• Golden hour (1 hour before sunset) = beautiful natural light for free
• Use the back camera (not front/selfie) for quality

Post-production for free:

• CapCut — best all-around free editor for mobile
• Add text overlays matching your brand colors
• Use trending audio from TikTok (search "non-copyrighted music" for YouTube)

Free Video Editing Tools

Tool	Platform	Best For	Cost
CapCut	iOS/Android/Desktop	TikToks, Reels, all short-form	Free
DaVinci Resolve	Desktop	Professional-quality edits	Free
iMovie	iOS/Mac	Quick edits, beginner-friendly	Free

Tool	Platform	Best For	Cost
Canva Video	Web/Mobile	Animated graphics, promo videos	Free tier
Adobe Express	Web/Mobile	Branded templates, stories	Free tier
Pexels/Pixabay	Web	Free stock b-roll footage	Free
Epidemic Sound	Web	Royalty-free music	30-day free trial
YouTube Audio Library	Web	Copyright-free music for YouTube	Free

SECTION 7: PRINT & PHYSICAL MARKETING

Flyer Messaging by Location

College Campus Flyer

Headline: "What do you want to do tonight?"

Subheadline: "Stop the loop. Start the date."

Body: "DateNight lets your group vote on activities and reach consensus automatically. No more arguing. No more doing nothing. Create a plan in 60 seconds."

CTA: [QR CODE] "Scan to download free"

Visual: Two cartoon characters stuck in a loop → then showing a phone with DateNight

Coffee Shop Flyer

Headline: "Planning your next date night shouldn't take longer than your coffee order."

Body: "DateNight: propose options, everyone votes, consensus reached instantly. Perfect for couples and friend groups."

CTA: [QR CODE] "Download free at togetherplans.app"

Visual: Coffee + phone = simple, aspirational

Gym/Fitness Center Flyer

Headline: "You work hard enough. Let the app do the planning."

Body: "DateNight is the app that settles 'what do you want to do?' before it becomes an argument. Plan an active date — hiking, climbing, a class together — in 2 minutes."

CTA: [QR CODE] "Download DateNight — Free"

Restaurant Partnership Card (Table Tent / Business Card)

Front: "Still deciding what you're doing after dinner?"

Back: "Let DateNight handle it. Propose ideas, vote as a group, go have fun. Download free at togetherplans.app or scan below."

[QR CODE]

QR Code Strategy

Generate free QR codes: qr-code-generator.com, canva.com/create/qr-codes (both free)

Best practices:

• Every QR code should go to a UTM-tracked link so you know which physical material is converting
• Campus: togetherplans.app?utm_source=campus_flyer&utm;_medium=print
• Coffee shop: ?utm_source=coffee_shop&utm;_medium=print
• Restaurant: ?utm_source=restaurant_partner&utm;_medium=table_tent
• Make QR codes at least 1.5 inches on print — smaller = unreliable scanning
• Test every QR code before printing
• Include a text URL below the QR code as fallback: "or visit togetherplans.app"

Guerrilla Marketing Placement Ideas

1. Bar/Restaurant bathroom mirrors — Permission-based stickers or table cards. Bars are ideal — people go on dates there. Ask the manager; offer them a mention on your social.

2. Campus bulletin boards — Universities have physical bulletin boards in dorms, dining halls, libraries. Free to post. High-traffic.

3. Coffee shop receipt/bag stuffers — Small cards tucked in bags at local coffee shops. Partner with 5 shops in your city.

4. Bookstore "relationship" section — Tuck a small card in books about relationships and couples. Zero cost, targeted.

5. Dog park benches — Couples with dogs are a massive underserved audience. Simple signage or card drops near dog park entrances.

6. Bowling alley/mini golf scorecard backs — Pitch the venue owner to let you put a card/sticker on their scorecards. "Planning your next group outing? Use DateNight."

7. Movie theater lobby — "Loved the movie? Struggling to decide what to do next? Download DateNight." Card drops near exits.

8. Wedding venues and bridal shops — Newly engaged couples are your audience. Leave cards.

Business Partnership Opportunities

Category 1: Activity Venues (Win-Win Partnership)

Restaurants, Escape Rooms, Bowling Alleys, Mini Golf, Paint and Sip, Rock Climbing Gyms, Axe Throwing Venues, Comedy Clubs

The pitch: "List your venue in our app for free. When DateNight users in your area vote to plan an activity, we'll surface your venue as an option. You get free marketing; we get local inventory."

Partnership tiers:

• Free Listing: Basic venue card in app discovery
• Featured Listing (barter): Put our flyers in your space → we feature you prominently in the app
• Affiliate Deal: "Mention DateNight at checkout for 10% off" — drives downloads, drives venue visits

Category 2: Related Apps & Services (Cross-Promotion)

• OpenTable / Resy — restaurant booking integration (future)
• Eventbrite — event discovery integration
• Lyft/Uber — "Getting there" partnership (future)
• Spotify — "Date Night Playlist" collab content

Category 3: Wedding & Events Industry

Engaged couples, wedding planners, honeymoon coordinators — all need group activity planning tools.

Print Cost Estimates

Material	Quantity	Est. Cost	Where to Print
4x6 flyers, glossy	500	$25–35	VistaPrint, PrintingForLess
4x6 flyers	1,000	$40–60	VistaPrint
Table tent cards	250	$45–65	VistaPrint
Business card QR codes	500	$10–20	VistaPrint, Canva
Poster 11x17	50	$30–50	FedEx Office
Stickers (2in round)	500	$35–50	Sticker Mule (sale)

Total first print run budget: ~$100–200 — Start with 500 flyers and 500 business cards.

SECTION 8: PARTNERSHIP & INFLUENCER STRATEGY

Micro-Influencer Strategy (10K–100K followers)

Micro-influencers (10K–100K) outperform macro-influencers for consumer app launches because:

• Higher trust: Audiences feel personally connected; recommendations feel genuine
• Lower cost: Many will work for free product access or revenue share
• Higher engagement rate: Micro-influencers average 3–8% engagement vs. 1–2% for 1M+ accounts
• Niche-aligned: You can find exactly "couples in Denver who do outdoor activities"

Target Influencer Categories

1. Couple Lifestyle Creators — Couples documenting their relationship, date nights, activities. Perfect fit. Look for "date night" in their bio or recent posts.

2. Local City Guides — "Things to do in [city]" creators. Their audience actively seeks activity ideas. DateNight is their perfect tool.

3. Relationship & Dating Coaches — Therapists, coaches, and relationship educators who recommend tools to improve couple communication.

4. Family / Married Couples — Married couple vloggers who talk about keeping romance alive.

5. Group Activity Creators — Friend groups who do activities together: escape rooms, sporting events, food tours.

6. Comedy/Sketch Creators — Anyone who already makes relatable "couple arguing" content. Pitch them the app as material for a skit.

Finding Micro-Influencers (Free)

• Instagram search: #DateNight, #CoupleGoals, #ThingsToDoIn[City] — find creators, not brands
• TikTok search: same hashtags — look for 10K–100K following
• Modash free tier, Heepsy free search, or simply manual search
• Your own followers (early adopters can become ambassadors)

Zero-Budget Influencer Approach: Barter & Affiliate

Option A: Barter

What you offer: Early/VIP access to premium features (once paid tier exists), co-branded content opportunities, authentic testimonial in your marketing, shoutout to their account.

What they provide: One honest review Reel or TikTok, or 3 Stories with swipe-up link.

Script for barter ask:

> "Hey [Name]! Huge fan of your content — your [specific post] really resonated. I built an app called DateNight that helps couples stop debating 'what do you want to do?' — I thought it might genuinely be useful for you AND make great content for your audience. Would you be open to trying it out? No obligation, no payment on either side — just honest thoughts. Happy to send details!"

Option B: Affiliate / Revenue Share (Set up from Day 1)

• Unique referral link per creator (free via Rewardful, Tapfiliate, or even custom UTM links)
• 20–30% of any future premium subscription revenue from referred users
• Creators who love the product will promote it indefinitely if they earn passive income

Podcast Outreach — Specific Shows to Pitch

Tier 1: Perfect Fit

Show	Host	Audience	Why
Where Should We Begin	Esther Perel	Couples, relationship-focused	Perfect demographic, huge credibility
Modern Love	WBUR	Relationship-focused mainstream	Great PR value
The Relationship School Podcast	Jayson Gaddis	Couples in growth	Practical tools audience
Couples Therapist Couch	Shane Birkel	Therapists, couples	Authority + audience
Not Your Mother's Podcast	Various	Young women, couples	Mass market + relatable

Tier 2: Broad Lifestyle

Show	Why
How I Built This (NPR)	Founder story angle — "I built an app to solve a problem my couple had"
My First Million	Entrepreneurial, discusses app growth
The Tim Ferriss Show	Lifestyle optimization — fits "solve the decision problem" angle
The Skinny Confidential Him & Her	Lifestyle couple podcast, huge audience

Pitch Structure (Email):

Subject: "App that solves the 'what do you want to do?' problem — quick pitch for [Show Name]"

> Hi [Host Name],

> I'm a huge fan of [specific episode]. I'm Jake, founder of DateNight — an app I built after realizing that the #1 thing stopping couples from actually going out is the decision itself.

>

> Quick version: Every couple knows the "What do you want to do?" / "I don't know, what do YOU want to do?" loop. We end it with group voting and automatic consensus.

>

> I think this would resonate with your audience as both a practical tool and a jumping-off point for a conversation about decision fatigue in relationships. Happy to share stats, walk through the app, or just have a conversation.

>

> Best, Jake | hello@togetherplans.app

Local Business Partnership Program

Program Name: "DateNight Partner Venue"

How it works:

1. Venue signs up free at togetherplans.app/partners
2. They get a "DateNight Partner" badge for their window/door (printable)
3. DateNight features them in in-app activity suggestions in their city
4. Venue promotes DateNight to their customers (cards, staff recommendations)

Launch targets: 5 restaurants + 3 activity venues (escape rooms, bowling, etc.) in your city first. Expand after proof of concept.

App Review Sites to Submit To (Free)

Site	Category	Submission Type	Priority
Product Hunt	Tech/Consumer Apps	Free launch	■ HIGH
AppAdvice	iOS Apps	Free submission	■ MED
148Apps	iOS Reviews	Free pitch	■ MED
Android Police	Android Apps	Free pitch	■ MED
AppGrooves	All Apps	Free listing	■ LOW
Slant.co	App comparisons	Free listing	■ LOW
AlternativeTo	Software alternatives	Free listing	■ MED
GetApp	Business Apps	Free listing	■ LOW
Crunchbase	Company profile	Free	■ HIGH
AngelList / Wellfound	Startup profile	Free	■ MED

SECTION 9: APP STORE OPTIMIZATION (ASO)

Keyword Strategy

App Store (iOS)

Primary keywords to target in title/subtitle:

• DateNight (brand)
• Date night planner
• Couple activity app
• Group decision app
• What to do tonight

App Title: DateNight: Plan & Decide Together

Subtitle: Date Night Planner for Couples

Keyword field (100 chars):
date,night,couple,activity,planner,vote,group,decide,fun,together,friends,plan,ideas,consensus

Google Play (Android)

Title: DateNight — Plan Together, Decide Together

Short Description (80 chars): Stop arguing about what to do. Vote together & make plans instantly.

Long Description keywords to naturally include:

• date night ideas
• couple activity planner
• group decision app
• what to do tonight
• date night app for couples
• activity voting app
• plan date night together
• friend group planner

Screenshot Optimization

iOS App Store allows 10 screenshots — use all 10:

#	Screen	Headline Overlay
1	App hero (couple using app)	"Finally. Decide together."
2	Create a plan screen	"Propose activities in seconds"
3	Invite screen (5 methods)	"5 ways to invite your group"
4	Voting interface	"Everyone votes — no arguments"
5	Consensus result screen	"Consensus reached. Let's go! ■"
6	Activity discovery/browse	"Discover local activities together"
7	Location-based suggestions	"Find things to do near you"
8	Group history / past plans	"See your DateNight history"
9	Multiple group types	"For couples & friend groups"
10	Simple onboarding	"Set up in 60 seconds. Free."

Screenshot design rules:

• Use device frames (iPhones/Androids as frames)
• Brand colors in background — consistent palette
• Large, readable headline overlay on each
• Show real (or very realistic) UI — not mockups
• Screenshot 1 is the most important — it shows in search results before users open the listing

Review Generation Strategy

The 3-Touch Review Ask

Touch 1 (In-App, after first successful plan):

> "You just reached your first consensus! ■ Loving DateNight so far? [Rate Us ■■■■■] [Maybe Later]"

Touch 2 (Email, Day 30 of welcome sequence):

> "One quick favor — a 5-star review takes 30 seconds and helps other couples find us. [Leave a Review]"

Touch 3 (Push notification, after 5th plan):

> "You've planned 5 DateNights! ■ If we've helped you stop arguing and start doing — would you rate us? It means the world."

Critical: Use Apple's requestReview() API and Google's In-App Review API for seamless prompts (no leaving the app).

Never:

• Ask for reviews after a crash or error
• Ask immediately on first open
• Offer incentives for reviews (violates App Store policies)

A/B Test Ideas

Element	Variant A	Variant B	Measure
App Icon	Heart + calendar	Two people + checkmark	Tap rate in search
Screenshot 1	Couple photo + tagline	App UI mockup	Conversion rate
App name subtitle	"Date Night Planner for Couples"	"Plan Together, Decide Instantly"	Search ranking
Description opener	Pain point hook	Feature-first	Install rate
Preview video	Real couple using app	Screen recording demo	Watch-through rate

SECTION 10: PR & EARNED MEDIA

Publications to Pitch

Tier 1: Tech/Startup (Highest credibility, hardest to get)

• TechCrunch — "Apps" section; look for the "daily deals" reporter who covers consumer apps
• The Verge — Consumer technology focus; apps that solve everyday problems
• Fast Company — "Innovation" and "Most Innovative Companies" angles; relationships + tech
• Mashable — Very open to relationship apps and social tools

Tier 2: Lifestyle & Relationships (High relevance, easier to get)

• Cosmopolitan — "Best Dating Apps" roundups; relationship advice angle
• Brides / The Knot — Engaged couples, date night content
• Men's Health / Women's Health — "Relationship Apps Worth Downloading"
• Bustle — Millennial relationships, app recommendations
• The Everygirl — Lifestyle, relationships, apps

Tier 3: Local Media (Easiest, high legitimacy)

• Your city newspaper / alt-weekly ("Austin Monthly," "Chicago Tribune," "LA Times")
• Local TV morning shows (they LOVE local startup stories + live demos)
• City business journals (every major city has one — startup features are regular content)
• University newspapers (if targeting college segment)

Press Release Template

(See /root/DateNight/marketing/press-release-template.md for full ready-to-send version)

Product Hunt Launch Strategy

(See /root/DateNight/marketing/product-hunt-launch-plan.md for complete playbook)

Quick overview:

• Find a hunter 2 weeks before (search hunters on the PH leaderboard, message via PH or Twitter)
• Schedule the post for 12:01am PST on a Tuesday or Wednesday (never Monday — competition too high)
• Mobilize your personal and professional networks for day-of upvotes
• Respond to every single comment personally

Local Media Angles

The LOCAL story is your most accessible PR win. Every city's media outlet loves a "local founder solves universal problem" story.

Angle 1 (Founder story): "Local [City] Developer Built an App to Stop Couples from Arguing — And It's Working"

Angle 2 (Problem story): "The 'What Do You Want To Do?' Problem — And the App One [City] Startup Built to Fix It"

Angle 3 (Valentine's Day / Seasonal): "Tired of Arguing About Date Night? This App Has the Answer" — pitch 4 weeks before Valentine's Day

Angle 4 (App success): Once you hit 1,000 or 10,000 downloads, "Local App Hits X Downloads" is a newsworthy milestone

Who to contact: City editor, tech reporter, lifestyle writer. Search "[city] [newspaper] tech reporter" on Twitter — reporters are findable and often respond to DMs.

How to Get Featured in "Best Apps" Roundups

1. Search for existing roundups: Google "best date night apps 2024" — find the articles ranking on page 1 and email the author directly with: "Hi [Name], I noticed your 2024 roundup — would love DateNight to be considered for your 2025 update. Here's why it's different: [2 sentences]. Happy to set up a demo."

2. Build relationships with app reviewers: Follow tech writers on Twitter, engage genuinely before pitching.

3. Submit to app curators: Many app newsletters (like AppSumo, Indie Hackers, etc.) have submission forms.

4. HARO (Help A Reporter Out): Free service where journalists post requests for sources. Set alerts for: "app," "dating," "relationships," "couple," "technology." Respond quickly and with genuine value.

5. Create the list yourself: "Best Date Night Apps 2025 (Compared)" — you control the content, feature DateNight prominently, other apps get press too, they share it. Win-win.

SECTION 11: 90-DAY LAUNCH PLAN

Week 1–2: Soft Launch

Goal: Iron out bugs, get first 100 real users, start content engine.

Actions:

• [ ] Launch app in App Store and Google Play (both platforms simultaneously)
• [ ] Post across all social channels: "We're live! Download now" — personal and brand accounts
• [ ] Share in every personal network: text friends, family, email contacts, LinkedIn post
• [ ] Submit to Crunchbase, AngelList, AlternativeTo (free directory listings)
• [ ] Start posting daily on TikTok and Instagram — relatable meme content
• [ ] Email your personal network (BCC) — "I built this, would love your honest feedback"
• [ ] Set up free analytics: Firebase Analytics (in-app), Google Search Console (web)
• [ ] Join r/iosapps, r/androidapps, r/SideProject — post honest "I built this" launch
• [ ] Monitor App Store reviews daily — respond to every single one

KPIs: 100 downloads, 25 plans created, 4.0+ App Store rating, 10 organic social followers/day

Week 3–4: Product Hunt + Press Push

Goal: Hit Product Hunt, get first press mention, reach 500+ downloads.

Actions:

• [ ] Product Hunt launch — Day 15–16 (Tuesday or Wednesday)
• Have hunter ready (reached out in Week 1)
• All hands on deck for upvote outreach day-of
• Post to Slack groups, Discord servers, LinkedIn, Twitter simultaneously
• [ ] Send press release to 10 journalists (Tier 2 publications first)
• [ ] Pitch local newspaper/TV with the "local founder" angle
• [ ] First influencer outreach — send 20 DMs/emails to micro-influencers
• [ ] Submit to AppAdvice, 148Apps, Android Police
• [ ] Begin blog — first 3 articles published (date night ideas, app review, founder story)
• [ ] Engage on Reddit with genuine value posts in r/dateideas, r/relationships

KPIs: 500 downloads, Product Hunt Top 10 of the day, 1 press mention, 100 social followers

Month 2: Content & Social Momentum

Goal: Build content flywheel, grow social to 1,000 followers, hit 2,000 downloads.

Actions:

• [ ] Publish 4 blog articles (SEO-targeted — see Section 5)
• [ ] Post TikTok and Instagram Reels daily (aim for 1 per day)
• [ ] Launch #WhatDoYouWantToDoChallenge on TikTok
• [ ] Pinterest: create 10 themed boards, pin 15x/day using scheduler
• [ ] Set up email welcome sequence (6 emails) using Mailchimp free tier
• [ ] Partner with 2–3 local venues for in-app listing
• [ ] Begin weekly "DateNight Spotlight" in Stories — feature a couple activity idea
• [ ] Run first Reddit AMA in r/SideProject or r/startups
• [ ] Reply to every tweet/comment mentioning "what do you want to do?" about date night

KPIs: 2,000 downloads, 1,000 social followers (combined), 500 monthly active users, 3 partnership venues confirmed, 10 app reviews

Month 3: Partnership Activation

Goal: Build sustainable growth channels, hit 5,000 downloads.

Actions:

• [ ] Launch DateNight Partner Venue program in home city — 10 partner venues
• [ ] Activate 3 micro-influencer partnerships (post live this month)
• [ ] Publish city-specific date night guides (top 5 cities by user base)
• [ ] Reach out to 5 podcasts for guest appearances
• [ ] Submit to Mashable, Bustle, Cosmopolitan for "best apps" coverage
• [ ] Plan Valentine's Day campaign (content, PR push, if applicable to timing)
• [ ] Build first Facebook Group community: "DateNight Community — Plan Together"
• [ ] Launch YouTube channel — first "I let DateNight plan our date" vlog
• [ ] Set up Google Analytics for website + Mixpanel for in-app tracking

KPIs: 5,000 downloads, 2,500 monthly active users, 1 tier-2 press mention, 50+ app reviews, 3+ influencer posts live

Free Analytics Tools

Tool	Tracks	Cost
Firebase Analytics	In-app events, retention, funnel	Free
Google Analytics 4	Website traffic, conversions	Free
App Store Connect Analytics	iOS downloads, crashes, engagement	Free
Google Play Console	Android downloads, ratings, reviews	Free
Mixpanel	User behavior flows, custom events	Free (up to 20M events)
Mailchimp	Email opens, clicks, list growth	Free (up to 500 contacts)
Metricool	Social media analytics	Free tier

Tool	Tracks	Cost
Later	Instagram/Pinterest scheduling + analytics	Free tier

SECTION 12: MARKETING MATERIALS BRIEF

Brand Identity Guidelines

Color Palette

Primary: Deep Plum Purple #5C2D91 — romance, sophistication, decisiveness

Secondary: Warm Coral #FF6B6B — energy, fun, warmth

Accent: Soft Gold #F5C842 — celebration, consensus achieved

Background: Off-White #FAFAFA — clean, approachable

Text: Dark Charcoal #1A1A2E — readable, modern

Note: If the app already has established colors, use those. These are recommendations if branding is not yet locked.

Typography

• Headlines: Bold Sans-Serif (Poppins Bold, Montserrat ExtraBold, or Inter Bold)
• Body: Clean Sans-Serif (Inter Regular, Lato, or DM Sans)
• Accent/Quotes: Italic version of body font

Logo Usage

• Minimum size: 32px tall (digital), 0.5 inch (print)
• Clear space: equal to the height of the "D" in DateNight on all sides
• Never stretch, recolor, or add effects
• Dark background: Use white/light version; Light background: Use primary color version

Photography Style

• Warm, natural light (golden hour preferred)
• Real people, not stock photos (genuine > polished)
• Couples and groups laughing, moving, doing things — not posed
• Phone screens visible but not dominant (it's about the experience, not the app)
• Locations: restaurants, outdoor activities, city environments

Social Media Asset Specs

Platform	Format	Size	Notes
Instagram Feed	Square	1080x1080px	Safe zone: 1:1
Instagram Reel	Vertical	1080x1920px	9:16 ratio

Platform	Format	Size	Notes
Instagram Story	Vertical	1080x1920px	Keep text out of top/bottom 250px
TikTok Video	Vertical	1080x1920px	Same as Reel
Twitter/X Post	Landscape	1600x900px	16:9 ratio
Pinterest Pin	Vertical	1000x1500px	2:3 ratio
YouTube Thumbnail	Landscape	1280x720px	72dpi minimum
App Store Screenshot (iOS)	Portrait	1290x2796px	iPhone 15 Pro Max
Play Store Screenshot	Portrait	1080x1920px	Standard Android

3 Social Post Templates with Example Copy

Template 1: Relatable Meme Post (Instagram/TikTok)

Visual: Two-panel meme. Left: couple on couch with identical speech bubbles "what do you want to do?" / "i don't know, you?" Right: couple out having fun, phone showing DateNight consensus screen.

Caption:

> every. single. weekend. ■■■

>

> until we found @togetherplans — now we just propose ideas, vote, and the app picks for us. we've been out 3 weekends in a row. this is who we are now.

>

> link in bio to download free ■

>

> #DateNight #CoupleGoals #WhatDoYouWantToDo #TogetherPlans #DateNightFixed #CoupleApp #RelationshipGoals #ThingsToDo #DateIdeas #CoupleLife

Template 2: Feature Spotlight Post (Instagram Carousel)

Slide 1 (Cover): "5 ways to invite your group to DateNight ■■"

Slides 2–6: One invite method per slide (Link, Email, SMS, QR Code, Username) with screenshot

Slide 7: "Which one will you use first? Drop a comment ■■"

Caption:

> No excuses now ■ You can invite your partner or the whole friend group in literally 5 different ways — pick your vibe:

>

> ■ Share a link

> ■ Send an email

> ■ Text an invite

> ■ Show a QR code

> @ Tag by username

>

> What are you waiting for? Every invitation gets you one step closer to an actual decision. Download link in bio ■

>

> #DateNight #TogetherPlans #GroupPlanning #CoupleApp #DateNightIdeas #FriendGroup #ActivityPlanning

Template 3: Engagement Question Post (Twitter/X)

Visual: Plain text tweet with optional branded graphic.

Copy:

> be honest.

>

> your couple (or friend group) decides what to do for the night in:

>

> A) under 15 minutes

> B) 15-45 minutes

> C) 1+ hour

> D) lmao we don't, we just end up on the couch

>

> ■ (we built an app for everyone who picked C or D)

Email Newsletter Template Outline

Subject line formula: [Emoji] + [Relatable hook] + [Curiosity gap] OR [Direct value]

Newsletter structure:

1. Header: DateNight logo + simple nav (Download App | Visit Website)
2. Hero section: One strong image + headline + 1-sentence hook
3. Main content block: 1 story (300–400 words) — tip, feature spotlight, or user story
4. Activity Spotlight: "This Week's Top Date Night Idea" — one activity, 3 bullet points, one local link
5. Community section: UGC repost or testimonial
6. App tip of the week: One-sentence pro tip about a DateNight feature
7. CTA button: "Plan Your DateNight This Weekend →"
8. Footer: Unsubscribe | Privacy Policy | hello@togetherplans.app | @togetherplans on social

Tone: Warm, like a friend who gets it — not corporate, not salesy. First-person "we" voice. Short sentences. Emoji used sparingly but effectively.

Flyer Template Brief

For designer (or Canva self-serve):

• Page size: 4x6 inches (postcard) or 8.5x11 (full page)
• Background: Brand purple with coral accent elements
• Top 30% of flyer: Strong, punchy headline in large white text
• Middle 40%: App mockup image (phone showing the consensus screen) — the visual proof
• Bottom 30%: Short body copy (2 sentences max) + QR code + "Free Download" + "togetherplans.app"
• Canva template: Start from "App Promotion Flyer" template and customize brand colors
• Print bleed: Add 0.125 inch bleed on all sides when exporting for print

Tone of Voice Guide

The DateNight Voice Is:

Witty but not try-hard. We're funny because the situation (the "what do you want to do?" loop) is universally funny. We don't force jokes. We reflect the humor back.

Direct and confident. "Stop debating. Start doing." We know we've solved the problem. We're not apologetic about it.

Warm and relatable. We're on the side of couples and friend groups. We've been there. We get it.

Human, never corporate. No buzzwords ("synergy," "leverage," "solution"). No passive voice. No "we strive to deliver experiences." Just: "We made this because we were tired of arguing too."

Encouraging, not preachy. We're not telling couples how to have better relationships — we're just taking one annoying thing off their plate.

Voice Examples:

Instead of...	Say...
"Our innovative platform facilitates group consensus"	"Everyone votes. The app picks. You go have fun."
"Download our application today"	"Download free. Stop arguing tonight."

Instead of...	Say...
"We provide activity recommendations"	"We suggest ideas you'll actually want to do."
"Maximize your relationship quality time"	"Make the most of the nights you actually have."
"Our user-friendly interface enables..."	"Open the app. Create a plan. It takes 60 seconds."

Writing Rules:

1. Lead with the problem, end with the solution
2. Short sentences. Period.
3. Contractions always ("you're," "we've," "it's") — not formal
4. Numbers are more believable than vague claims ("60 seconds" vs. "just a minute")
5. Exclamation points: max 1 per piece, only when genuinely exciting
6. Emoji: 1–2 per social post, never in press releases

End of Marketing Strategy Report

DateNight / TogetherPlans | togetherplans.app | hello@togetherplans.app

Privacy: https://api.togetherplans.app/privacy | Terms: https://api.togetherplans.app/terms

B. 30-Day Social Media Content Calendar

DateNight (TogetherPlans) — 30-Day Social Media Content Calendar

Brand: @togetherplans | Platforms: Instagram, TikTok, Twitter/X, Pinterest

Goal: Build brand awareness, drive downloads, establish relatable brand voice

Key CTA: "Link in bio" / "Download free at togetherplans.app"

> Visual Conventions Used Below:

> ■ = Static image/graphic | ■ = Reel/Video | ■ = Carousel | ■ = Pinterest Pin | ■ = Tweet

DAY 1 — Launch Day

Post 1.1 — Instagram (■ Reel)

Date: Day 1

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: Launch Reel

Caption:

> we're live. ■

>

> you know the conversation. every weekend. every couple. every friend group.

>

> "what do you want to do?"

> "i don't know, what do YOU want to do?"

> [two hours later] nothing. again.

>

> we built DateNight to fix this. propose activities, everyone votes, consensus reached automatically. download free — link in bio.

>

> let's stop arguing and start doing. ■

Hashtags: #DateNight #TogetherPlans #CoupleApp #WhatDoYouWantToDo #DateNightFixed #CoupleGoals #AppLaunch #NewApp #DateNightIdeas #GroupPlanning

Visual Description: Quick-cut Reel. Opens on text card: "Tired of this conversation?" → Cut to relatable iPhone text screenshot (mocked up): "what do u want to do" / "idk you" / "idk either" → Cut to app demo: plan created, partner votes, consensus = "Movie Night at Home ■" → End card: DateNight logo on purple background, "Download Free" text, QR code

Post 1.2 — TikTok (■ Video)

Date: Day 1

Platform: TikTok

Content Type: Launch skit

Caption:

> we made an app for couples who can never decide what to do ■ #DateNight #CoupleProblems #WhatDoYouWantToDo #TogetherPlans #NewApp

Visual Description: Person to camera, casual tone: "Hey — so I built this app because my partner and I genuinely could not stop having this exact argument every single weekend. I'm going to show you how it works because I think you might need it too." → 30-second screen recording walkthrough of creating a plan → End: "That's it. Download free. Link in bio."

Post 1.3 — Twitter/X (■ Tweet)

Date: Day 1

Platform: Twitter/X

Content Type: Launch tweet

Caption:

> we just launched.

>

> DateNight is the app that ends "what do you want to do?"

>

> your group proposes activities → everyone votes → consensus is automatic

>

> ios + android, free

>

> togetherplans.app

>

> (tag the person you have this argument with every weekend ■■)

Hashtags: #DateNight #AppLaunch

Visual Description: Simple graphic — phone mockup showing the DateNight voting interface with a warm purple background and the tagline "Stop debating. Start doing."

DAY 2

Post 2.1 — Instagram (■ Meme Post)

Date: Day 2

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: Relatable meme

Caption:

> us. every. friday. ■

>

> (swipe to see our current Saturday situation)

Hashtags: #CoupleLife #Relatable #DateNight #WhatDoYouWantToDo #CoupleGoals #FridayVibes #TogetherPlans #DateNightFixed #Couples #WeekendPlans

Visual Description: Carousel. Slide 1: Illustrated two-panel meme. Left panel: couple on couch, both speech bubbles say "what do you want to do?" with clock showing 7pm. Right panel: same couple, same couch, clock shows 10pm, both asleep with Netflix screensaver. Slide 2: Same couple out at a restaurant/bowling alley, happy, phone showing DateNight "Consensus reached ■" screen, caption: "After we downloaded DateNight."

Post 2.2 — TikTok (■ POV Video)

Date: Day 2

Platform: TikTok

Content Type: POV skit

Caption:

> POV: you finally solve the Saturday argument ■■ #POV #CoupleProblems #DateNight #TogetherPlans #RelationshipTips

Visual Description: POV text on screen: "POV: It's Saturday. You've spent 45 minutes arguing about what to do." → Shows phone screen with group chat: 23 unread messages, chaos. Cut to: Opening DateNight. Create plan. Three options proposed. Partner votes. Consensus: "Escape Room" → Text overlay: "Plan made in 2 minutes." → End card: "Download DateNight. Link in bio."

Post 2.3 — Pinterest (■ Pin)

Date: Day 2

Platform: Pinterest

Content Type: List pin

Caption:

> 50 Date Night Ideas for Couples When You Have No Idea What to Do — plus the FREE app that helps you vote on which one to actually pick! Stop the endless debate and start planning with DateNight (togetherplans.app). Perfect for couples, friend groups, and anyone tired of the "what do you want to do?" loop. #DateNight #DateNightIdeas #CoupleActivities #ThingsToDo #DateIdeas #CoupleGoals #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Tall vertical pin (1000x1500px). Purple/coral gradient background. Bold white headline: "50 Date Night Ideas (Finally Pick One ■)". Grid of 12 illustrated activity icons below: ■ Bowling, ■ Paint Night, ■ Movie, ■ New Restaurant, ■ Climbing, ■ Game Night, etc. Bottom: "Vote on your favorites with DateNight" + app logo + togetherplans.app

DAY 3

Post 3.1 — Instagram (■ Story Series)

Date: Day 3

Platform: Instagram Stories

Content Type: Poll series

Caption:

> [Story 1] "Be HONEST with us ■ How long does it usually take your couple/friend group to decide what to do?"

> [Poll options]: "Under 15 min ■" | "Over an hour, honestly"

>

> [Story 2 — after poll] "You're not alone. That's literally why we built DateNight. Download free ■■ [swipe up / link sticker]"

Hashtags: N/A (Stories — no hashtag impact)

Visual Description: Story 1: Branded purple background, large white poll question, DateNight logo top left. Story 2: Results graphic showing "most of you said over an hour" with a knowing laugh emoji + download button

Post 3.2 — TikTok (■ Trending audio)

Date: Day 3

Platform: TikTok

Content Type: Trending audio adaptation

Caption:

> the app that ended the argument ■ #DateNight #CoupleApp #RelationshipGoals #TogetherPlans #ThingsToDo

Visual Description: Use currently trending audio (check TikTok weekly) — adapt the trend to the "what do you want to do?" frustration. Simple text-on-screen format. Final frame: DateNight app screen + "Download free. Link in bio."

Post 3.3 — Twitter/X (■ Poll Tweet)

Date: Day 3

Platform: Twitter/X

Content Type: Engagement poll

Caption:

> real question for couples:

>

> when you ask "what do you want to do?" and your partner says "whatever you want" — do you believe them?

Poll options:

> A) Yes, they actually mean it

> B) No, they definitely have an opinion

> C) I am the "whatever you want" person tbh

> D) This is why we need therapy (or a better app)

Hashtags: #Relationships #DateNight

Visual Description: Text tweet with Twitter poll functionality enabled

DAY 4

Post 4.1 — Instagram (■ Reel — App Demo)

Date: Day 4

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: Clean app walkthrough

Caption:

> this is DateNight in 60 seconds ■

>

> 1■■ create a plan

> 2■■ add your activity ideas

> 3■■ invite your group (5 different ways)

> 4■■ everyone votes

> 5■■ consensus. done. go have fun.

>

> free on iOS + Android. link in bio ■

Hashtags: #DateNight #AppDemo #CoupleApp #TogetherPlans #HowItWorks #DateNightIdeas #GroupPlanning #AppReview #CoupleGoals #MustHaveApp

Visual Description: Screen recording Reel of the app, portrait mode. Upbeat music underneath (non-copyrighted). Each step gets a text overlay label. End card: App Store + Google Play badges side by side on purple background. "Free Download"

Post 4.2 — Pinterest (■ Infographic Pin)

Date: Day 4

Platform: Pinterest

Content Type: How-it-works infographic

Caption:

> How DateNight App Works — Finally an easy way for couples and friend groups to agree on what to do! No more endless debates. Propose activities, vote together, get instant consensus. Download free on iOS and Android at togetherplans.app #DateNightApp #CoupleApp #HowItWorks #GroupPlanning #DateNight #ActivityPlanning Visual Description: Tall infographic pin. Step-by-step visual: Step 1 (Create plan icon) → Step 2 (Add activities icon) → Step 3 (Invite group — 5 icons for each method) → Step 4 (Vote interface screenshot) → Step 5 (Consensus celebration screen). Clean, branded colors, numbered steps.

DAY 5

Post 5.1 — Instagram (■ Carousel)

Date: Day 5

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: "Types of people" carousel

Caption:

> which one are you in your friend group? ■ (no judgment — we've been all of them)

>

> swipe to find your type ➡■

>

> then download DateNight so you can finally escape the loop. link in bio ■

Hashtags: #FriendGroup #CoupleLife #RelationshipMemes #DateNight #TogetherPlans #Relatable #CoupleGoals #WeekendVibes #FriendGroupProblems #DateNightFixed

Visual Description: 6-slide carousel. Each slide = one "type" with illustrated character and name:

• Slide 1 Cover: "Every Group Has One (or All) Of These"
• Slide 2: "The Eternal Suggester" — offers 10 ideas, all get vetoed
• Slide 3: "The Vetoer" — says no to everything, proposes nothing
• Slide 4: "The 'Whatever You Want' Person" — secretly has strong opinions
• Slide 5: "The Over-Researcher" — googles for 2 hours and decides nothing
• Slide 6: "The One Who Just Opens DateNight" — hero of the group ■

Post 5.2 — TikTok (■ Skit)

Date: Day 5

Platform: TikTok

Content Type: Character skit

Caption:

> every friend group has a vetoer ■ tag yours ■■ #FriendGroupProblems #DateNight #GroupChat #RelationshipComedy #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Quick-cut comedy skit. Creator plays "The Vetoer": Someone suggests a restaurant — "Ugh, too far." Someone suggests bowling — "I'm bad at bowling." Someone suggests a movie — "I don't want to sit for two hours." Final suggestion: "Let's just use DateNight and vote." Vetoer: "...fine." App shown. Decision made. Cut to everyone having fun at said activity. Text overlay:

"DateNight fixes the vetoer problem."

Post 5.3 — Twitter/X (■ Tweet)

Date: Day 5

Platform: Twitter/X

Content Type: Relatable observation

Caption:

> the way "whatever you want" actually means "I have very specific opinions that I will reveal only after you've already committed to the wrong choice" is sending me

Hashtags: #Relationships #CoupleLife #DateNight

Visual Description: Text tweet

DAY 6

Post 6.1 — Instagram (■ Reel — UGC/Story)

Date: Day 6

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: Founder story Reel

Caption:

> why we built DateNight (real talk) ■

>

> [short caption version of the founder story — Jake's voice]

>

> we were the couple who had everything except the ability to make a decision on Friday night. date nights kept not happening because the planning was too exhausting.

>

> so we built the thing we needed. turns out a lot of people needed it too.

>

> download free. link in bio. let's go have some fun. ■

Hashtags: #FounderStory #AppDevelopment #DateNight #TogetherPlans #CoupleApp #StartupLife #BuildingInPublic #IndieApp #CoupleGoals #WhyIBuiltThis

Visual Description: Jake to camera (or stylized text/graphic version if preferred). Authentic, warm, conversational. Can be filmed on iPhone in good natural light. 45-60 seconds. End with phone showing app.

Post 6.2 — Pinterest (■ Blog Pin)

Date: Day 6

Platform: Pinterest

Content Type: Article pin

Caption:

> The best date night ideas for couples who can NEVER decide what to do — 101 ideas organized by vibe, budget, and season. Plus: how to finally stop arguing and start going out with the DateNight app. Free on iOS and Android! #DateNightIdeas #CoupleActivities #DateNight #WhatToDoTonight #CoupleGoals #DateIdeas

Visual Description: Tall blog-style pin. Bold headline: "101 Date Night Ideas (And How to Finally Pick One)". Collage of 6 activity photos in a grid (stock photos from Pexels — bowling, candlelit dinner, hiking, paint night, escape room, movie). Website URL at bottom: togetherplans.app/blog

DAY 7

Post 7.1 — Instagram (■ Sunday Engagement)

Date: Day 7 (Sunday)

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: Engagement question

Caption:

> sunday question: what's the best date night you've had recently? ■

>

> we'll start: someone in our community voted on an escape room through DateNight last weekend and said it was their best date in two years ■

>

> tell us yours ■■ (and if you haven't had a great one in a while — link in bio ■)

Hashtags: #DateNight #SundayVibes #CoupleGoals #TogetherPlans #DateNightIdeas #WeekendActivities #Couples #CoupleLife #WhatDoYouWantToDo #BestDate

Visual Description: Beautiful lifestyle photo of a couple at a candlelit restaurant or activity venue (Pexels free stock). DateNight brand overlay in corner. Warm, aspirational tone.

Post 7.2 — Twitter/X (■ Thread)

Date: Day 7 (Sunday)

Platform: Twitter/X

Content Type: Value thread

Caption:

> 10 date night ideas you can do tonight, ranked by "how easy is this to actually make happen" ■

> 1/ Escape room — book online in 5 min, 90 min of fun, better than anything on Netflix

> 2/ Paint and sip class — most cities have these every weekend. two glasses of wine + bad art = perfect evening

> 3/ Rooftop restaurant you've never been to — just pick the city's highest-rated place you've avoided bc "too fancy"

> 4/ Mini golf — underrated, embarrassingly fun, always available

> 5/ Drive-in movie (if near you) — literally a movie but make it an experience

> 6/ Cooking a new cuisine together — youtube + grocery store run = actual date

> 7/ Trivia night at a local bar — social, cheap, weirdly exciting

> 8/ Night market or farmers market walk — even better if you grab street food

> 9/ Stargazing + a blanket + spotify — zero dollars

> 10/ Literally anything you vote on in DateNight — because you'll actually go

> (download link in bio, free on iOS + Android)

Hashtags: #DateNight #DateNightIdeas

Visual Description: Thread format — each tweet is a separate reply

DAY 8

Post 8.1 — Instagram (■ Reel)

Date: Day 8

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: The invite demo

Caption:

> 5 ways to invite your partner or friends to DateNight ■

>

> link ■ | email ■ | text ■ | QR code ■ | username @

>

> no excuses ■ go plan something. link in bio.

Hashtags: #DateNight #CoupleApp #HowTo #TogetherPlans #DateNightIdeas #GroupPlanning #CoupleGoals #AppFeatures #FrequentlyAsked #PlanTogether

Visual Description: Fast-paced screen recording showing each invite method being selected. Text overlay highlights each method as shown. Upbeat music. 30 seconds. Clean and satisfying.

Post 8.2 — TikTok (■ Video)

Date: Day 8

Platform: TikTok

Content Type: "I let DateNight plan our night" vlog opener

Caption:

> we let the app decide everything for our saturday night ■ #DateNight #CoupleVlog #LetAppDecide #TogetherPlans #DateNightChallenge

Visual Description: Creator on camera: "Okay so we're letting DateNight plan our entire Saturday night and I'm filming it." → Shows creating plan in real time → Reveals activity (whatever it genuinely picks) → Cut to them doing it. Authentic, unscripted, fun.

Post 8.3 — Pinterest (■ Seasonal Pin)

Date: Day 8

Platform: Pinterest

Content Type: Seasonal activity ideas

Caption:

> The best date night ideas for every season — winter, spring, summer, and fall activities for couples who want to do something special. Voted on and planned with DateNight app (free on iOS and Android). Stop arguing about what to do and start enjoying your time together! #DateNight #DateNightIdeas #CoupleActivities #SeasonalDateIdeas #WinterDateNight #SummerDateNight #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Tall infographic. Four quadrant layout with seasonal icons. Winter: ice skating, holiday markets, cozy cooking. Spring: hiking, picnics, farmers markets. Summer: outdoor concerts, beach, kayaking. Fall: apple picking, haunted houses, wine tasting. App logo at bottom.

DAY 9

Post 9.1 — Instagram (■ Carousel)

Date: Day 9

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: "DateNight vs. Without DateNight" comparison

Caption:

> spot the difference ■

>

> swipe to see what planning looks like without vs. with DateNight ➡■

>

> yeah. download it. link in bio.

Hashtags: #DateNight #BeforeAndAfter #CoupleLife #TogetherPlans #WhatDoYouWantToDo #DateNightFixed #GroupChat #CoupleGoals #Relatable #AppLife

Visual Description:

• Slide 1: "Before DateNight" — screenshot of a chaotic group chat (47 messages, arguing about where to eat, nobody agreeing)
• Slide 2: "After DateNight" — clean app screen: "4 votes received. Consensus: Sushi Night! ■ Friday 7pm."
• Slide 3: Split screen. Left: couple on couch looking at phones, looking bored. Right: Same couple out at sushi restaurant, laughing.
• Slide 4: "Which couple do you want to be?"

Post 9.2 — Twitter/X (■ Meme Tweet)

Date: Day 9

Platform: Twitter/X

Content Type: Meme format tweet

Caption:

> me: "what do you want to do tonight?"

>

> partner: "i don't know, what do YOU want to do?"

>

> me: [opens DateNight, creates a plan, invites partner, reaches consensus in 90 seconds]

>

> partner: "...oh. we could've been doing this the whole time."

>

> yes. yes you could have. togetherplans.app

Hashtags: #DateNight #Couples

Visual Description: Text tweet with optional meme image showing "why didn't we think of this sooner?" reaction

DAY 10

Post 10.1 — Instagram (■ Community/UGC spotlight)

Date: Day 10

Platform: Instagram

Content Type: Community appreciation post

Caption:

> 10 days in and you've already planned [X] DateNights ■

>

> to everyone who downloaded, planned, voted, and went out — THANK YOU. this is exactly why we built this.

>

> if you've used DateNight, tag us or drop a comment below — we read every single one. and we'll repost the best stories ■

>

> (if you haven't downloaded yet — what are you waiting for? link in bio)

Hashtags: #DateNight #TogetherPlans #Community #ThankYou #DateNightFixed #CoupleGoals #UserStories #AppLaunch #10Days #MilestonePost

Visual Description: Milestone celebration graphic. Large number "10" stylized, brand colors. Heartfelt tone. If real UGC exists, repost one — otherwise use a warm, aspirational lifestyle photo.

DAYS 11–15: Content Sprint Week 2

DAY 11

Post 11.1 — TikTok (■ Challenge Launch)

Caption:

> launching the #WhatDoYouWantToDoChallenge ■ film YOUR version of the argument then show how DateNight fixed it. tag us @togetherplans and best video wins a $25 restaurant gift card ■ #DateNight #CoupleChallenge #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Creator demonstrates the challenge format: act out the "what do you want to do?" argument (30 sec) → cut to DateNight resolution → "Now you try. Tag @togetherplans."

Post 11.2 — Instagram (■ Inspirational quote)

Caption:

> "the best date nights aren't planned perfectly. they're just actually planned." ■

>

> — us, after building DateNight

>

> go make a plan tonight. link in bio.

Hashtags: #DateNight #CoupleGoals #RelationshipQuotes #TogetherPlans #DateNightIdeas #LoveQuotes #CoupleLife #QualityTime #WeekendPlans

Visual Description: Minimalist text card. Purple background. White quote text in elegant serif font. DateNight logo small in corner.

DAY 12

Post 12.1 — Instagram (■ Reel)

Caption:

> things DateNight users said to us this week ■ (we asked for feedback and you delivered)

>

> reading every single comment and DM. this is fuel. ■

Visual Description: Text-overlay Reel. Scrolling "testimonials" styled as handwritten notes or text messages: "we've gone out 3 weekends in a row" / "my husband actually made a plan, I'm shocked" / "this fixed our biggest weekly argument" — each one appears with a soft whoosh animation. Warm music.

Post 12.2 — Twitter/X (■ Thread)

Caption:

> why is planning a date night so hard? a thread on the psychology of decision fatigue (and how we fixed it) ■

> 1/ Decision fatigue is real. The average adult makes 35,000 decisions a day. By Friday night, you have almost nothing left.

> 2/ When both people say "whatever you want" — neither is being lazy. They're genuinely depleted. This is neuroscience.

> 3/ The fix isn't "try harder." It's removing the decision overhead entirely. Give people a vote instead of a blank page.

> 4/ That's the design principle behind DateNight. Voting is cognitively easier than generating options AND evaluating them.

> 5/ Propose options → vote → consensus. Three steps. 90 seconds. Full evening freed.

> 6/ togetherplans.app — free on iOS + Android.

DAY 13

Post 13.1 — Instagram (■ Carousel)

Caption:

> date night ideas for every budget ■ swipe to find your level ➡■

>

> (DateNight helps you vote on which one to actually do — link in bio)

Hashtags: #DateNightIdeas #CheapDateNight #BudgetDate #CoupleGoals #DateNight #TogetherPlans #AffordableDates #DateIdeas #CoupleActivities

Visual Description:

• Slide 1: "Date Night Ideas By Budget ■"
• Slide 2: "$0 — Free Date Nights" (stargazing, picnic, home movie theater, board games, cooking challenge)
• Slide 3: "$10–25 — Low-Cost Dates" (mini golf, cheap trivia night, dollar movies, farmers market)
• Slide 4: "$25–50 — Mid-Range" (escape room, paint and sip, new restaurant, comedy show)
• Slide 5: "$50+ — Splurge Dates" (wine tasting, cooking class, concert, weekend trip)
• Slide 6: "Vote on which one with DateNight — free download, link in bio"

Post 13.2 — TikTok

Caption:

> free date night ideas that genuinely slap ■ #DateNightIdeas #FreeDateNight #CoupleGoals #DateNight #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Fast-cut list video. Creator points at text overlays: 5 free date night ideas, each with a visual. Ends: "And use DateNight to vote on which one — free download. Link in bio."

DAY 14

Post 14.1 — Instagram (■ Story — 2-week milestone)

Caption:

> [Story 1] "2 WEEKS IN ■"

> [Story 2] "[X] plans created. [X] consensus moments. [X] date nights that actually happened."

> [Story 3] "thank you thank you thank you. download free ■■"

Visual Description: Celebration graphic. Bold numbers. Confetti animation using Stories effects.

Post 14.2 — Pinterest (■ Pin)

Caption:

> Cheap date night ideas for couples on a budget — 50 fun things to do together that won't break the bank. From free activities to under $25 dates, organized by season and vibe. Use the DateNight app to vote on your favorites (free iOS & Android). #CheapDateNight #BudgetDateNight #DateNightIdeas #AffordableDates #CoupleGoals #DateNight #TogetherPlans #CoupleActivities Visual Description: Vertical pin with stacked illustrated icons of budget-friendly activities. Warm colors. Bold typography. "50 Cheap Date Night Ideas" headline.

DAY 15

Post 15.1 — Instagram (■ Reel)

Caption:

> POV: your partner opens DateNight and actually makes a plan ■■

>

> (this is the content we're here for)

>

> link in bio to be this person for your partner ■

Hashtags: #POV #DateNight #CoupleGoals #TogetherPlans #PartnerWins #DateNightFixed #WhatDoYouWantToDo #Relatable #CoupleApp #LoveIsThis

Visual Description: POV-style Reel. Screen recording of someone creating a DateNight plan (from the organizer POV). Each action — creating plan, adding activity options, sending invite link — appears natural and quick. Response notification appears: "Partner voted!" → Consensus screen: "■ Hiking Sunday morning — everyone's in!" Text overlay: "Be this person for your people."

DAYS 16–20: Engagement & Partnership Week

DAY 16

Post 16.1 — Twitter/X + Instagram (Cross-post)

Caption:

> honest question: what's the #1 reason date night doesn't happen for you?

>

> A) too tired after work

> B) can't agree on what to do

> C) planning feels like too much effort

> D) we just... forget to plan

>

> (we're asking because we want to make DateNight solve the RIGHT problem for you ■■)

Visual Description: Poll on Twitter. On Instagram, as a question sticker in Stories.

DAY 17

Post 17.1 — TikTok (■ "5 Invite Methods" demo)

Caption:

> 5 ways to get your group into DateNight ■ the QR code one is my favorite #DateNight #TogetherPlans #AppTips #CoupleApp #GroupPlanning

Visual Description: Creator demonstrates each invite method live: copies link → sends email → sends SMS → shows QR code to camera (audience can actually scan!) → searches by username. Fast, satisfying, like a features showcase.

Post 17.2 — Instagram (■ Repost UGC or Placeholder)

Caption:

> this just made our whole week ■ @[taggeduser] went on their first "proper date night in months" after using DateNight — and look at them ■ > this is EVERYTHING. if you've had a DateNight win, tag us — we love sharing these.

>

>

> #DateNight #DateNightWin #TogetherPlans #CoupleGoals #RealCouples #DateNightFixed #UGC #CommunityLove

Visual Description: Repost of a user's photo/story (if available). If not yet, use a warm lifestyle photo placeholder with the above caption and note to swap when UGC arrives.

DAY 18

Post 18.1 — Instagram (■ Carousel)

Caption:

> date night spots in [YOUR CITY] that DateNight users are voting for this month ■

>

> [City-specific, rotating monthly]

>

> swipe for our community's current favorites ➡■

Hashtags: #[City]DateNight #DateNight #TogetherPlans #DateNightIdeas #[City]Activities #LocalDateNight #ThingsToDoIn[City] #CoupleGoals #LocalLove

Visual Description: City-specific carousel. 5 slides showing 5 local activity options with photos, name, address, price range. Last slide: "Find these and more in DateNight → link in bio"

Post 18.2 — Pinterest

Caption:

> Best date night activities in [City] — from escape rooms and rooftop bars to hidden gems only locals know. A couple's guide to the best things to do together in [City], curated and voted on with DateNight app. Download free! #[City]DateNight #DateNightIn[City] #LocalDateNight #[City]Activities #CoupleActivities #DateNight

Visual Description: City guide pin. Tall vertical format. City skyline background. Bold: "Best Date Nights in [City]" headline. List of 8 activities with icons.

DAY 19

Post 19.1 — TikTok (■ Duet concept)

Caption:

> there's a solution tho ■ #DateNight #WhatDoYouWantToDo #CoupleProblems #TogetherPlans #Duet

Visual Description: Stitch/duet a viral "couple arguing about what to do tonight" video. Left side: viral video of the problem. Right side: Creator on camera: "Okay but have you TRIED…" → shows DateNight. This format is highly shareable and builds on existing viral momentum.

Post 19.2 — Twitter/X

Caption:

> the most common thing we hear from new DateNight users:

>

> "wait, that's it? that actually worked?"

>

> yes. yes it did.

>

> togetherplans.app — free on iOS + Android

Hashtags: #DateNight #TogetherPlans

DAY 20

Post 20.1 — Instagram (■ Reel — Valentine's/Romance angle)

Caption:

> romance isn't dead. it just got tired of making all the decisions. ■■

>

> DateNight: proposal → vote → plan. romance restored.

>

> free download, link in bio.

Hashtags: #Romance #DateNight #CoupleGoals #TogetherPlans #DateNightIdeas #LoveIsThis #KeepTheRomanceAlive #CoupleLife #RelationshipGoals #DateNightFixed

Visual Description: Short, punchy Reel. Opens with: "Romance isn't dead —" (dramatic pause) "— it's just too tired to decide." text card. Cut to DateNight app. Cut to couple on a lovely date. End card with tagline.

DAYS 21–25: Momentum Week

DAY 21

Post 21.1 — Instagram (■ Carousel — Relationship tips)

Caption:

> 5 science-backed reasons date nights actually matter for couples (not just fun — necessary) ■■

>

> swipe for the data ➡■

>

> then go plan one. link in bio.

Visual Description: Research-backed carousel. Each slide covers one finding with a warm illustration: reduces conflict frequency, increases emotional intimacy, builds shared memories, etc. Source citation on each slide. Final slide: DateNight CTA.

Post 21.2 — Twitter/X (■ Tweet)

Caption:

> couples who go on regular date nights report:

>

> → higher relationship satisfaction

> → lower likelihood of divorce

> → stronger emotional connection > and the #1 reason couples DON'T go on date nights?

>

>

> they couldn't agree on what to do.

>

> we fixed that: togetherplans.app

DAY 22

Post 22.1 — TikTok (■ "Real reactions" video)

Caption:

> we showed DateNight to couples who'd never heard of it — here are their real reactions ■ #DateNight #AppReview #CoupleApp #TogetherPlans #RealReactions

Visual Description: Creator shows the app to people at a coffee shop or on campus (with permission). Capture natural reactions when they see the "consensus reached" moment. Genuine surprise and delight = highly shareable.

DAY 23

Post 23.1 — Instagram (■ Behind the scenes)

Caption:

> building DateNight in public ■■

>

> this week we're working on [feature in progress]. here's a sneak peek ■

>

> what feature would YOU add? drop it below — we actually read these.

Hashtags: #BehindTheScenes #BuildingInPublic #AppDevelopment #StartupLife #IndieApp #DateNight #TogetherPlans #ProductDevelopment #FounderLife

Visual Description: Genuine BTS — Xcode/Android Studio screenshot, whiteboard planning session, or a mockup in progress. Humanizes the brand.

DAY 24

Post 24.1 — Instagram (■ Reel)

Caption:

> group chat who? ■ this is how we plan now.

>

> [screen recording showing group chat chaos → DateNight resolution]

Visual Description: Split-screen. Left: Phone showing group chat with 50+ messages, nobody agreeing. Right: DateNight — plan created, 4 votes received, "Axe Throwing Night — let's GO! ■". Clean resolution. Satisfying.

Post 24.2 — Pinterest

Caption:

> Fun group activity ideas for friend groups of 4-8 people — activities everyone can agree on, from escape rooms and bowling to paint nights and trivia. Use DateNight app to vote on which one your group wants to do! Free on iOS and Android. #GroupActivities #FriendGroupIdeas #ThingsToDoWithFriends #EscapeRoom #GroupPlanning #DateNight #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Vertical group activity guide pin. 8 illustrated activity icons in a grid. Bold: "Group Activity Ideas Everyone Will Vote Yes To"

DAY 25

Post 25.1 — Twitter/X (■ Milestone tweet)

Caption:

> 25 days in. a few numbers:

>

> [X] plans created

> [X] votes cast

> [X] date nights that actually happened

>

> you're all doing amazing sweetie ■

>

> if you haven't downloaded yet — what's stopping you? (not a rhetorical question, actually reply with your answer, we want to know)

DAYS 26–30: Final Push Week

DAY 26

Post 26.1 — Instagram (■ Carousel)

Caption:

> here's what the first month of DateNight looked like ■

>

> swipe for our 30-day in-review ➡■

Visual Description: Data storytelling carousel. Key stats: plans created, votes cast, most popular activities, cities represented, most used invite method. Warm celebration tone. "Thank you for being here from the start."

DAY 27

Post 27.1 — TikTok (■ Challenge recap)

Caption:

> THE BEST #WhatDoYouWantToDoChallenge submissions from this month ■ you guys are hilarious and we love you #DateNight #ChallengeRecap #TogetherPlans

Visual Description: Compilation of challenge submissions (stitched or screenshotted with credit). Announce the gift card winner. Call for more submissions next month.

DAY 28

Post 28.1 — Instagram (■ Thank you post)

Caption:

> to everyone who has used DateNight this month:

>

> you went out. you made plans. you stopped arguing and started doing.

>

> that's everything we hoped for when we built this. ■

>

> more to come. this is just the beginning. ■

Visual Description: Warm collage of lifestyle couple/friend group images. Heartfelt caption. No hard sell.

DAY 29

Post 29.1 — All Platforms (Cross-post)

Caption:

> month 2 is loading... ■

>

> what do you want to see more of from @togetherplans?

>

> A) date night ideas

> B) couple challenges

> C) app tips + features

> D) all of the above

Visual Description: Polls on each platform. Simple engagement check-in before month 2.

DAY 30

Post 30.1 — Instagram (■ Reel — Month 1 hero)

Caption:

> 30 days. [X] plans. [X] date nights.

>

> we're just getting started. ■

>

> if DateNight helped you stop debating and start doing — this post is for you.

>

> see you in month 2. ■

Hashtags: #DateNight #30Days #TogetherPlans #MilestonePost #CoupleGoals #AppLaunch #ThankYou #DateNightFixed #WhatDoYouWantToDo #TogetherPlansApp

Visual Description: Cinematic-feeling Reel (even if shot on iPhone). Opens on the DateNight logo. Quick montage of: couple creating a plan → voting interface → consensus screen → couple/group actually out having fun. Music builds. End card: "Download DateNight. Free." + app store badges.

End of 30-Day Content Calendar

DateNight / TogetherPlans | @togetherplans | togetherplans.app | hello@togetherplans.app

C. Viral Video Scripts (Ready to Film)

DateNight (TogetherPlans) — Viral Video Scripts

5 Complete Scripts | Smartphone-Filmable | 30–60 Seconds Each

Brand: @togetherplans | togetherplans.app

VIDEO SCRIPT 1: "The Loop"

Concept: The universal "what do you want to do?" conversation acted out perfectly, ending with DateNight as the resolution. Relatable, funny, shareable.

Length: 45 seconds

Format: Comedy skit — can be filmed alone (split-screen) or with a partner

Equipment needed: iPhone, stable surface or tripod, natural light

SCENE BREAKDOWN

[SCENE 1 — 0:00 to 0:05]

Setting: A couch or bed. One or two people visible. Friday night vibe — dim light, casual clothes.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Us. Every. Friday."

[Music]: Silence, or subtle ambient sound

Person 1 (or left side of split screen):

> "What do you want to do tonight?"

Person 2 (right side of split screen / same person cuts to reaction):

> "I don't know... what do YOU want to do?"

[SCENE 2 — 0:05 to 0:15]

Same setting, now both look slightly more tired/frustrated.

[On-screen text overlay]: "10 minutes later..."

Person 1:

> "Okay what about— [pause] —no, never mind."

Person 2:

> "What? No, say it."

Person 1:

> "I was gonna say sushi but you always say you're not that hungry."

Person 2:

> "I LIKE sushi."

Person 1:

> "Since WHEN?"

[SCENE 3 — 0:15 to 0:22]

Clock on wall visible. Jump cut. Both look defeated.

[On-screen text overlay]: "45 minutes later..."

[On-screen text]: [Netflix logo or generic streaming icon appearing] "...again."

Both slumped. Nothing happened.

[SCENE 4 — 0:22 to 0:38]

CUT TO: Clean, bright phone screen recording of DateNight

[Voiceover — Person 1, upbeat shift in tone]:

> "Okay so I downloaded this app called DateNight. Watch."

[Screen shows: Create plan → Add three options: Sushi, Mini Golf, Movie → Invite partner → Partner votes → Consensus: ■ Mini Golf — 2/2 votes → "Let's go!" screen]

[On-screen text overlay]: "Two votes. Ninety seconds. Done."

[SCENE 5 — 0:38 to 0:45]

CUT TO: Couple at mini golf, genuinely laughing. Shot on phone, authentic.

[On-screen text overlay]: "DateNight. Stop debating. Start doing."

[Voiceover]: "Download free. Link in bio."

[Final frame]: DateNight logo + togetherplans.app

FILMING NOTES

• Film Scene 1–3 together with minimal cuts; the monotony IS the joke
• Use natural light from a window — don't over-light this
• Exaggerate the exhausted reactions slightly for comedy
• Scene 5 can be any actual activity — film it in real life for authenticity
• For solo creator: use split-screen effect (available in CapCut) to play both characters

RECOMMENDED MUSIC/AUDIO

• Scenes 1–3: Deadpan silence OR the classic "sad trombone" SFX
• Scene 4: Upbeat, satisfying "solution" sound — like a lightbulb ding
• Scene 5: Something warm and upbeat — trending TikTok audio that fits a "happy ending"

VIDEO SCRIPT 2: "The Group Chat"

Concept: Screen recording horror show of a group chat that can never agree — versus DateNight's 3-vote resolution. The before/after of chaos vs. calm.

Length: 30 seconds

Format: Screen recording with voiceover — can be made without ever showing your face

Equipment needed: iPhone (screen recording), earbuds for VO quality

SCENE BREAKDOWN

[SCENE 1 — 0:00 to 0:05]

Screen recording of a (mocked-up) iMessage group chat. The group is called "Friday Night Squad ■"

[On-screen text overlay]: "The group chat every Friday ■"

Rapid-fire scroll through messages:

> Jake: "where are we going tonight"

> Emma: "idk somewhere fun"

> Mike: "bowling?"

> Sarah: "ugh not bowling again"

> Jake: "what about that new rooftop place"

> Emma: "is it expensive"

> Mike: "I don't want to dress up"

> Sarah: "what about escape room"

> Jake: "we just did that"

> Emma: "can we just do dinner"

> Mike: "where tho"

> Sarah: "idk you pick"

> Jake: "I always pick"

> [47 unread messages remain]

[Voiceover]:

> "The Friday night group chat. Forty-seven messages. Zero decisions."

[SCENE 2 — 0:05 to 0:12]

Screen recording switches to clock ticking fast (time-lapse style). Clock goes from 6pm to 8pm.

[On-screen text overlay]: "2 hours later..."

Group chat: "guys it's already 9, should we just stay in?"

[Voiceover, deadpan]:

> "Every. Single. Weekend."

[SCENE 3 — 0:12 to 0:26]

CUT TO: Fresh, clean screen recording of DateNight app.

[Voiceover, tone shifts — upbeat, satisfied]:

> "Or — you open DateNight."

[Screen shows in real time]:

• Create plan: "Friday Night Out"
• Add options: [Rooftop Bar] [Escape Room] [New Sushi Place] [Bowling]
• Invite group — paste the link into the group chat
• Notifications: Jake voted ■, Emma voted ■, Mike voted ■, Sarah voted ■
• Consensus: ■ New Sushi Place — 3/4 votes

[On-screen text overlay]: "4 people. 4 votes. 90 seconds."

[SCENE 4 — 0:26 to 0:30]

End card on DateNight's brand colors

[On-screen text overlay, building line by line]:

> "DateNight."

> "Stop the group chat chaos."

> "Download free → togetherplans.app"

[Voiceover]:

> "Link in bio."

FILMING NOTES

• The group chat can be pre-set in iMessage with fake contacts, or mocked up in CapCut
• VO should be recorded with earbuds (not phone speaker) for clean audio
• Keep the VO conversational — not scripted-sounding. Record it 3 times and use the loosest take.
• This video works well with NO music underneath — the silence makes the chaos funnier and the resolution more satisfying

RECOMMENDED MUSIC/AUDIO

• Scenes 1–2: No music (or barely audible "incoming message" notification sounds)
• Scene 3: Satisfying, clean resolution music — the "Tadaa" or "Level Complete" vibe
• Scene 4: Fade to silence or light loop out

VIDEO SCRIPT 3: "I Let the App Plan Our Entire Night"

Concept: The "I let [X] decide" format — creator vlog where DateNight plans their real Saturday night. Authentic, fun, shareable. Long-form potential, cut to 60-second short.

Length: 60 seconds (edit of longer content)

Format: Vlog / first-person / real evening

Equipment needed: iPhone on stabilizer or handheld, front and back camera

SCENE BREAKDOWN

[SCENE 1 — 0:00 to 0:08]

Creator on front camera, casual, in kitchen or living room. Saturday afternoon light.

[On-screen text overlay]: "letting an app plan our ENTIRE saturday night ■"

Creator (to camera):

> "Okay so — my partner and I spend approximately four hours every Saturday arguing about what we're going to do that night. So today, we're letting DateNight decide. Everything. No vetoes. Whatever it says, we do."

[SCENE 2 — 0:08 to 0:22]

Creator switches to screen recording mode — shows creating the plan in real time.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 1: Add our options"

Creator (voiceover):

> "So we each added our top three choices for the night. No talking about it — we just submitted what WE actually wanted."

[Screen shows creator's options: Escape room, Rooftop bar, Cooking class at home]

[Screen shows partner's options: Mini golf, Bowling, Thai food and a movie]

[On-screen text overlay]: "6 options. No arguing."

[SCENE 3 — 0:22 to 0:30]

Both creator and partner shown — each voting on their own phone. Quick cuts between them.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 2: We both vote. No peeking."

Creator (to camera, whispering conspiratorially):

> "I am SO voting for escape room right now."

[Both finish voting. Consensus loading animation.]

[SCENE 4 — 0:30 to 0:38]

Both looking at screen. Consensus result appears.

[DateNight screen]: ■ Mini Golf — 4 points (top-ranked across both rankings)

Creator:

> "MINI GOLF?! I— okay. We said no vetoes. We said no vetoes."

Partner (already grabbing jacket):

> "Let's gooooo."

[SCENE 5 — 0:38 to 0:55]

Quick montage of them actually at mini golf — laughing, competing, genuinely having fun. B-roll: mini putt attempt, celebrating a hole-in-one, sharing a snack.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Plot twist: it was actually the most fun we've had in months."

[Creator voiceover]:

> "Okay I didn't think I wanted to go mini golfing. But this was objectively a great call. We were genuinely laughing the entire time. Which is more than I can say for our usual Netflix standoff."

[SCENE 6 — 0:55 to 1:00]

Creator back on front camera, in the car or at venue.

Creator:

> "Download DateNight. Let it plan your Saturday. You won't hate it. Link in bio."

[On-screen text overlay]: "DateNight — free on iOS + Android"

[Final frame]: togetherplans.app

FILMING NOTES

• The more REAL this feels, the better it performs. Don't over-edit.
• The surprise of the app's choice is the payoff — play up any "unexpected" result
• Film more than you need — 15–20 minutes of real footage, cut to 60 seconds
• The partner MUST appear willing and genuine. Forced = bad content.
• This is the format that can also be a 5–7 minute YouTube video with the full night shown

RECOMMENDED MUSIC/AUDIO

• Vlog-style background music throughout (LoFi, upbeat indie)
• Audio from the actual evening should come through naturally — keep real ambient sounds
• End on an upbeat track for the montage

VIDEO SCRIPT 4: "Types of People in Your Group"

Concept: Fast-paced comedy sketch identifying the 4 personality types in every group that can't agree — ending with DateNight as the universal solution. Highly shareable, tag-able.

Length: 45 seconds

Format: Comedy character sketch — works solo (quick costume/expression changes) or with a group

Equipment needed: iPhone, stable surface, good light — ideally consistent setting for all characters

SCENE BREAKDOWN

[OPENING — 0:00 to 0:03]

Creator on camera, addressing audience directly.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Every friend group has these people ■"

Creator:

> "Every group chat. Every time. Let me show you."

[CHARACTER 1 — 0:03 to 0:10]

Quick cut. Same person, or a different person. Slightly more energetic expression.

[On-screen text overlay, big + bold]: "THE SUGGESTER ■"

The Suggester (enthusiastically):

> "Okay okay okay — what about escape room? Or paint night? Or we could do the rooftop thing, or there's that new bowling place, or—"

[Cut to rest of group staring, unresponsive]

The Suggester:

> "...what."

[CHARACTER 2 — 0:10 to 0:18]

Different person or quick change. Arms crossed, slightly judgmental.

[On-screen text overlay]: "THE VETOER ■"

The Vetoer:

> "Not escape room. We did that last month. Not paint night — too expensive. Not rooftop — I don't want to dress up. Not bowling—"

[Character from Scene 1]:

> "WHY NOT BOWLING?"

The Vetoer:

> "I just don't."

[CHARACTER 3 — 0:18 to 0:25]

Completely passive energy. Barely visible effort.

[On-screen text overlay]: "THE 'WHATEVER' PERSON ■"

Group member:

> "What do YOU want to do?"

The Whatever Person (immediately):

> "Whatever you guys want!"

[Beat. Group stares at each other.]

Someone:

> "Do you actually not care or—"

The Whatever Person (still totally flat):

> "I literally do not mind at all. Anything is fine."

[Long pause.]

The Whatever Person:

> "...but NOT that new sushi place."

[CHARACTER 4 — 0:25 to 0:33]

Creator on camera, completely calm, holding phone.

[On-screen text overlay]: "THE ONE WHO DOWNLOADS DATENIGHT ■ ← be this person"

Creator (calmly):

> "Everyone, I've created a plan. Three activity options. Vote by tonight."

[Phones ding. Everyone votes.]

Creator:

> "Consensus: bowling. We're going at 8."

[The Vetoer and the Whatever Person look mildly surprised.]

The Vetoer (quietly):

> "...okay actually bowling is fine."

[OUTRO — 0:33 to 0:45]

Creator back to direct address.

Creator:

> "Be the person who downloads DateNight. Your group will thank you. Link in bio."

[On-screen text overlay]:

> "DateNight — Free on iOS + Android"

> "Stop debating. Start doing."

> "togetherplans.app"

FILMING NOTES

• For solo creator: Quick wardrobe/expression changes between characters (even just a hat/jacket swap = clear visual differentiation)
• For group: Recruit friends — more authentic, funnier dynamic
• The Vetoer's "I just don't" line should be very flat and unexplained — the comedy IS the lack of explanation
• The final "whatever person secretly has strong opinions" is the biggest laugh — pause after it
• Keep each character under 8 seconds — pace is everything

RECOMMENDED MUSIC/AUDIO

• Upbeat, slightly comedic background music throughout — think "quirky sitcom underscore"
• Each character could have a tiny musical motif (1 note SFX) as their "on-screen text" appears
• End on the same upbeat music that plays throughout — resolution, not a new track

VIDEO SCRIPT 5: "DateNight in 60 Seconds" (App Demo)

Concept: The clean, confident app showcase. Think "As Seen on TV" energy — fast cuts, clear value proposition, every feature shown. The "tell me what it does" video.

Length: 60 seconds

Format: Screen recording with charismatic voiceover — can be narrator or creator to camera

Equipment needed: iPhone (screen recording), earbuds for VO, optional: creator appears in 5-second intro/outro

SCENE BREAKDOWN

[INTRO — 0:00 to 0:06]

Creator on camera (optional — can be title card instead), direct and confident.

Creator (or text card):

> "You know the problem. Your couple or friend group spends more time arguing about what to do than actually doing it. Here's the fix."

[On-screen text overlay]: "DateNight. The app that ends the debate."

[STEP 1 — 0:06 to 0:14]

Screen recording. Clean, deliberate taps.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 1: Create a Plan"

Voiceover:

> "Open DateNight. Hit Create. Name your plan — Date Night, Weekend Plans, whatever. Takes ten seconds."

[App shows: "Create Plan" → name entry: "Friday Night Out ■" → Create button tapped → Plan created]

[STEP 2 — 0:14 to 0:23]

Still in app — adding activity options.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 2: Propose Activities"

Voiceover:

> "Now add your options. Sushi, mini golf, escape room — whatever's on the table. Your group can add suggestions too."

[Screen shows: adding 3 activity cards with name, description, and optional photo — each one appears cleanly]

[STEP 3 — 0:23 to 0:33]

Screen shows invite screen — 5 invite methods visible.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 3: Invite Your Group (5 Ways)"

Voiceover:

> "Invite everyone in whatever way works — send a link, shoot a text, email them, show a QR code in person, or search by username. Five options. No excuses."

[Each invite method is tapped and demonstrated briefly — quick cuts]

[STEP 4 — 0:33 to 0:43]

Voting interface appears. Quick cuts of different people voting from different phones (or simulated by switching to airplane mode and voting as different users).

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 4: Everyone Votes"

Voiceover:

> "Your group gets notified, opens the app, and votes on their favorite options. It takes thirty seconds. No group chat required."

[Voting screen shown — each activity gets ranked/voted on. Vote counts climbing.]

[STEP 5 — 0:43 to 0:53]

Dramatic pause. Then — the consensus result screen.

[On-screen text overlay]: "Step 5: Consensus. Done."

Voiceover (with genuine satisfaction):

> "And then — this. The app ranks the results, shows the consensus winner, and everyone knows where you're going. No arguments. No hurt feelings. Just — a plan."

[Screen: ■ Sushi Night — Group Consensus! 4/4 votes in — Friday 7:30pm — Let's go! ■]

[OUTRO — 0:53 to 1:00]

End card. App icon. Brand colors. Clean typography.

[On-screen text overlay builds:]

> "DateNight."

> "Free on iOS + Android."

> "Stop arguing."

> "Start doing."

> "togetherplans.app ■"

Voiceover (punchy, final):

> "Download DateNight. Free. Link in bio. Go have fun tonight — you've earned it."

FILMING NOTES

• The VO is everything in this video — record in a quiet room with earbuds as mic. Multiple takes.
• Each step transition should feel satisfying — consider adding a light "click" or "tick" SFX as each step resolves
• Screen recording: turn on "Do Not Disturb" before recording so no notifications appear
• The consensus reveal at Step 5 should pause slightly — build anticipation, then reveal. It's the payoff.
• This video is ideal pinned at the top of your TikTok and Instagram profiles as the "explainer"

RECOMMENDED MUSIC/AUDIO

• Upbeat, optimistic, slightly corporate-but-cool background track throughout
• Something like "Lo-fi Corporate" or "Uplifting Tech" from YouTube Audio Library (free)
• Music should be low under the VO, rising slightly in the Step 5 reveal
• End on a musical resolution — not a fade, but a satisfying conclusion note

End of Video Scripts

DateNight / TogetherPlans | @togetherplans | togetherplans.app | hello@togetherplans.app

QUICK REFERENCE: Production Checklist

Before filming:

• [ ] Script memorized (not read — it shows)
• [ ] Location scouted (clean background, no distractions)
• [ ] Natural light source identified (window or outdoor)
• [ ] Phone fully charged
• [ ] Do Not Disturb enabled
• [ ] CapCut open and ready for edit

During filming:

• [ ] Film each scene 3x minimum
• [ ] Film both landscape (YouTube) AND portrait (TikTok/Reels) versions
• [ ] Record VO separately with earbuds in quiet space
• [ ] Capture reaction shots (they're often the best moments)

After filming:

• [ ] Edit in CapCut (free)
• [ ] Add text overlays matching brand colors
• [ ] Add captions/subtitles (85% of TikTok watched muted)
• [ ] Check that CTA is clear in final 5 seconds
• [ ] Export in highest quality available

D. Launch Press Release Template

DateNight (TogetherPlans) — Launch Press Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New App Ends the Relationship's Most Annoying Argument — "What Do You Want To Do Tonight?"

DateNight Launches Free iOS and Android App That Turns Couple and Group Indecision Into Instant Consensus

[CITY, STATE] — [DATE] — Couples and friend groups worldwide know the loop well: "What do you want to do?" "I don't know, what do YOU want to do?" For many, this exchange repeats every weekend — ending in Netflix by default and a quiet sense of opportunity lost. Today, TogetherPlans launches DateNight, a free iOS and Android app that turns group activity indecision into instant, democratic consensus.

DateNight allows users to create a planning session, propose activity options, invite their partner or group via any of five methods — link, email, SMS, QR code, or username — and let everyone vote. The app's consensus engine automatically surfaces the top-ranked choice, eliminating debate and replacing it with a plan everyone actually agreed to.

"We built DateNight because we were the couple having this argument every single weekend," said [FOUNDER NAME], founder of TogetherPlans. "It wasn't a lack of things to do — our city is full of options. It was the decision overhead. Nobody wants to 'be the one who decides' and have it be the wrong call. DateNight removes that pressure entirely. You propose, you vote, you go. No one loses. Everyone actually goes out."

The Problem: A Universal, Unaddressed Pain Point

Decision fatigue is a documented psychological phenomenon — by Friday evening, most adults have depleted their capacity for high-stakes decision-making after a full work week. Yet the unstructured "what do you want to do?" conversation demands exactly that kind of effortful, open-ended reasoning from both parties simultaneously.

The result: an estimated 40% of planned date nights never materialize, not because couples don't want to go out, but because the planning conversation becomes a barrier rather than a bridge. Group activity planning faces an even more complex version of the same problem: with four to eight people, preference heterogeneity and social dynamics make any single person's recommendation feel presumptuous.

DateNight solves this with a voting structure that removes social pressure: everyone submits their preferences independently, and the consensus reflects the group's genuine will rather than whoever spoke loudest.

Key Features

• Group Planning Sessions — Create a named plan with a theme, date, and location for any size group

• Activity Proposals — Add multiple activity options with descriptions, photos, and links
• Five Invite Methods — Invite anyone via shareable link, email, SMS, QR code, or @username
• Consensus Voting Engine — Every member votes; the app calculates and displays the group consensus automatically
• Location-Based Discovery — Browse curated local activity suggestions based on the group's location
• Multi-Group Support — Create separate plans for couples, friend groups, family outings, and work events simultaneously

Availability

DateNight is available as a free download on the Apple App Store and Google Play Store beginning [LAUNCH DATE].

Website: togetherplans.app

iOS: [App Store link]

Android: [Google Play link]

Privacy Policy: https://api.togetherplans.app/privacy

Terms of Service: https://api.togetherplans.app/terms

About TogetherPlans

TogetherPlans is an independent app development company building tools for couples and social groups to coordinate and enjoy quality time together. DateNight is the company's flagship product, launching on iOS and Android in [YEAR]. TogetherPlans is headquartered in [CITY, STATE].

For investor inquiries, partnership opportunities, or media access to app demos and founder interviews, contact: hello@togetherplans.app

Media Contact

[FOUNDER NAME]

Founder, TogetherPlans / DateNight

Email: hello@togetherplans.app

Website: togetherplans.app

Social: @togetherplans (Instagram, TikTok, Twitter/X)

App Store screenshots, demo video, and brand assets available upon request.

Boilerplate

About TogetherPlans: TogetherPlans builds apps that help couples and social groups turn activity indecision into instant consensus. The company's flagship product, DateNight, is available free on iOS and Android at togetherplans.app. TogetherPlans was founded in [YEAR] by [FOUNDER NAME] to solve a problem every couple knows personally: the "what do you want to do?" loop that prevents quality time together.

###

PRESS RELEASE USAGE NOTES

How to send this:

1. Paste into email — no attachment (reporters won't open attachments from unknowns)
2. Subject line options:
• "New app ends the 'what do you want to do?' argument — launch press release enclosed"
• "DateNight app launches: the fix for couple activity indecision — press release"
• "FREE: app that ends the group planning debate — launch announcement"

Who to send to first:

• Tech reporters at TechCrunch, The Verge, Mashable (find specific reporter emails via Twitter/LinkedIn)
• Relationship writers at Cosmopolitan, Bustle, Brides
• Your local city newspaper's tech or lifestyle reporter
• App review bloggers (search "best apps 2025" to find active reviewers)

Personalization tip: Before the press release, add 2 sentences tailored to that specific outlet:

> "Hi [Name] — I've been following your coverage of [recent article]. I think DateNight might resonate with your readers given [specific connection]. Full launch press release below — happy to arrange a demo or call."

Embargo option: If you want to give one reporter an exclusive, send embargoed 1 week before launch with: "Embargoed until [DATE/TIME]" at the top. This can get you a more prominent, prepared story from a top-tier outlet.

Follow-up: If no response in 5 days, one polite follow-up email only.

> "Hi [Name], following up on my note about DateNight's launch. Happy to send demo access or get on a quick call. Best, Jake"

E. Influencer & Partner Outreach Templates

DateNight (TogetherPlans) — Influencer & Partnership Outreach Templates

4 Ready-to-Send Templates | Fill in [PLACEHOLDERS] before sending

From: hello@togetherplans.app | @togetherplans

TEMPLATE 1: Instagram DM — Short, Casual (for micro-influencers 10K–100K)

Where to send: Instagram DM to lifestyle/couple/city guide creators

Length: ~80 words — short enough to read on mobile in 10 seconds

Tone: Genuine, fan-forward, non-salesy

[MESSAGE — copy and paste exactly]:

> Hey [CREATOR'S FIRST NAME]! ■ Love your content — especially [MENTION A SPECIFIC RECENT POST OR SERIES].

>

> I built an app called DateNight that helps couples and friend groups stop arguing about what to do — everyone votes on activity options and the app picks automatically. Honestly made it because we had this argument every week ■

>

> Think it might actually be useful for you AND make fun content for your audience. Would you be open to trying it? No strings attached — just want honest thoughts!

>

> — Jake @ DateNight | togetherplans.app

WHEN TO USE THIS: First contact with any creator. DO NOT pitch compensation or collab specifics here — just open the conversation. Wait for their response before going further.

PERSONALIZATION TIPS:

• Replace [MENTION A SPECIFIC RECENT POST OR SERIES] with something REAL — scroll their feed first
• Don't change the emoji pattern — it tests well for DM response rates
• Add the specific post reference within the first line — proves you're not a bot

FOLLOW-UP (if no response in 7 days):

> "Hey [NAME] — just following up on my last message about DateNight! Totally understand if this isn't the right fit. If you want a free download code to try it, I'm happy to send one. No obligation either way. ■"

TEMPLATE 2: Email Pitch — Mid-Tier Lifestyle Creator (50K–500K followers)

Where to send: Email (find via link in bio, media kit page, or creator's management contact)

Length: ~250 words — long enough to be credible, short enough to finish

Tone: Professional but warm; founder-to-creator energy

Subject line options (test both):

• "Quick pitch: app that could make great content for your audience (free + no obligation)"
• "DateNight app — think your followers would relate to this ■"

[EMAIL — copy and paste, fill in brackets]:

> Hi [CREATOR FIRST NAME],

>

> I'm Jake, founder of DateNight — an app I built after realizing my partner and I spent more time arguing about what to do on Friday nights than actually going out.

>

> Quick version: DateNight lets couples and friend groups propose activity options, vote democratically, and reach consensus automatically. No more 47-message group chats. No more "whatever you want." Just — a plan.

>

> I follow your content closely and loved [SPECIFIC POST/VIDEO] — your audience clearly deals with this same planning frustration, and I think DateNight would resonate genuinely.

>

> Here's what I'm proposing:

> - Free download + full access (no cost to you, ever)

> - If you like it and want to share it: one honest post/Story about your experience

> - If you don't like it: no obligation at all — honest feedback is equally valuable to us

>

> I'm not looking for a scripted ad. Just a real creator with a real audience trying a product that might actually help them.

>

> If you're open to trying DateNight, I'd love to send you a download link + a quick 3-minute walkthrough so you're not starting cold. Happy to answer any questions on a call or by email.

>

> Thank you for the content you make — it's great.

>

> Best,

> Jake

> Founder, TogetherPlans / DateNight

> hello@togetherplans.app

> togetherplans.app

> @togetherplans

WHEN TO USE THIS: After identifying a creator who regularly posts content about relationships, date nights, activities, or city guides and has engaged, genuine audiences.

TIPS:

• [SPECIFIC POST/VIDEO]: This is mandatory — do not skip it. Creators get hundreds of generic pitches. A genuine reference proves you watched their content.
• Do NOT attach anything to this email. Put everything in the body.
• Send Tuesday–Thursday, 9am–11am local time for best open rates.
• If they have a management contact (manager@ or press@), CC it but address the creator in the email.

FOLLOW-UP (Day 7 if no response):

> Subject: "Re: DateNight app"

> "Hi [NAME], just wanted to follow up on my note about DateNight. Completely understand if this isn't the right timing — no pressure at all. If you'd like a free download to try on your own terms, I'm happy to send one. Thanks for everything you create — genuinely a fan. — Jake"

TEMPLATE 3: Podcast Guest Pitch Email

Where to send: Podcast host's email (usually in show notes or their website) or show's booking page

Length: ~200 words — hosts are busy; short wins

Tone: Confident, story-forward, interesting

Subject line options:

• "Guest pitch: founder who built an app to stop couples from arguing (universal hook)"
• "App that ends 'what do you want to do?' — pitch for [SHOW NAME]"

[EMAIL — copy and paste, fill in brackets]:

> Hi [HOST FIRST NAME],

>

> Big fan of [SHOW NAME] — [SPECIFIC EPISODE OR TOPIC] really resonated, especially [ONE SENTENCE ABOUT WHAT SPECIFICALLY RESONATED].

>

> I'm Jake, founder of DateNight (togetherplans.app) — an app I built to solve the "what do you want to do?" problem that every couple and friend group faces every single weekend. Turns out it's a $3B+ addressable market that nobody had specifically addressed.

>

> I think I'd make a great guest because:

> → The story is genuinely relatable (every listener has had this argument)

> → There's real psychology and behavioral design behind how we solve it

> → It's a launching consumer app with viral mechanics worth discussing

> → I can talk about building a product from a personal frustration — the "scratch your own itch" startup story

>

> Potential episode angles:

> - "The psychology of couple decision fatigue — and the app fixing it"

> - "Building a consumer app on zero budget: a founder story"

> - "Why 'what do you want to do?' is costing couples quality time"

>

> Happy to adjust to whatever angle works best for your audience.

>

> Available for a call anytime — you can reach me at hello@togetherplans.app.

>

> Best,

> Jake

> Founder, DateNight / TogetherPlans

> togetherplans.app | @togetherplans

WHEN TO USE THIS: Pitching any podcast that covers relationships, apps, startup stories, lifestyle, or personal productivity.

WHICH SHOWS TO PRIORITIZE:

1. Where Should We Begin (Esther Perel)
2. The Relationship School Podcast
3. My First Million
4. The Skinny Confidential Him & Her
5. How I Built This (NPR)
6. Your local city's lifestyle or startup podcast

TIPS:

• Customize [SPECIFIC EPISODE OR TOPIC] every single time — hosts verify this
• Keep the bullet-point sections; they're easy to skim
• If they have a formal booking form, still send the email AND fill the form
• Follow the host on social before emailing — like or reply to a recent post. Warm context helps.

FOLLOW-UP (Day 10 if no response):

> Subject: "Re: Guest pitch for [SHOW NAME]"

> "Hi [NAME], following up on my guest pitch. Totally understand if timing or topic isn't right — just wanted to make sure this didn't get buried. Happy to adjust the angle or provide more context. Thanks for all the great episodes. — Jake"

TEMPLATE 4: Local Business Partnership Pitch

Where to send: Email to the owner or manager of local restaurants, escape rooms, bowling alleys, paint-and-sip studios, mini golf venues, comedy clubs, etc.

Length: ~180 words — business owners are very busy

Tone: Direct, mutually beneficial, no fluff

Subject line options:

• "Free listing + customer referrals from DateNight app — partnership inquiry"
• "Local app wants to send customers your way — quick note"

[EMAIL — copy and paste, fill in brackets]:

> Hi [OWNER/MANAGER NAME],

>

> I'm Jake, founder of DateNight — a free app (togetherplans.app) that helps couples and friend groups decide what to do together. We just launched in [CITY] and are building a local activity directory so that when users vote on "what to do tonight," local venues like [VENUE NAME] come up as top suggestions.

>

> I'd love to feature [VENUE NAME] in the app for free — no cost to you, ever. When DateNight users in [CITY] are planning an outing, your venue appears as a curated recommendation.

>

> In exchange, if you're open to it: we'd love to leave a small card or flyer near your [HOST STAND / FRONT DESK / TABLE], so guests who are already enjoying your venue can discover DateNight for their next outing.

>

> It's a zero-cost, zero-risk partnership that gets your business in front of an audience actively planning activities in [CITY].

>

> Would you be open to a quick 10-minute conversation or email exchange to set this up?

>

> Best,

> Jake

> Founder, DateNight | togetherplans.app

> hello@togetherplans.app | [PHONE NUMBER OPTIONAL]

WHEN TO USE THIS: Any local venue that caters to couples, groups, or people looking for activity experiences.

TOP VENUE TARGETS:

• Escape rooms (perfect group activity audience)
• Mini golf / bowling
• Paint and sip studios
• Comedy clubs
• Rooftop bars/restaurants
• Rock climbing gyms
• Axe throwing venues
• Movie theaters
• Drive-ins

IN-PERSON VERSION (if you visit):

> "Hi! I'm Jake — I built an app called DateNight that helps couples and groups decide what to do in [CITY]. I'd love to feature [Venue] in the app — totally free — and drop off some cards for your customers. Do you have 5 minutes to chat or a card I can email?"

TIPS:

• Call ahead before dropping in — ask who handles marketing or partnerships
• Bring printed business cards with QR codes when visiting in person
• Offer to print and provide the flyers yourself (removes their effort barrier entirely)
• Follow up once by email; if no response after second follow-up, move to next venue

End of Outreach Templates

DateNight / TogetherPlans | togetherplans.app | hello@togetherplans.app

OUTREACH TRACKER TEMPLATE

Copy this table into a spreadsheet to track all outreach:

Contact Name	Platform/Type	Date Sent	Template Used	Response?	Follow-up Date	Status
[Creator]	Instagram DM	[Date]	Template 1	[Y/N]	[Date]	Pending
[Creator]	Email	[Date]	Template 2	[Y/N]	[Date]	Responded
[Podcast]	Email	[Date]	Template 3	[Y/N]	[Date]	Booked
[Venue Name]	Email	[Date]	Template 4	[Y/N]	[Date]	Partner

Goal Week 1: Send 10 Instagram DMs (Template 1), 5 creator emails (Template 2), 3 podcast pitches (Template 3), 5 venue emails (Template 4)

F. Product Hunt Launch Playbook

DateNight (TogetherPlans) — Product Hunt Launch Playbook

Goal: #1 or #2 Product of the Day | Drive 500+ downloads in 24 hours

App: DateNight | togetherplans.app | hello@togetherplans.app

THE PRODUCT HUNT OPPORTUNITY

A strong Product Hunt launch can deliver:

• 500–2,000+ downloads in 24 hours
• Top-tier backlinks (DA 90+) to your website
• TechCrunch and press pickup (reporters watch PH daily)
• "As seen on Product Hunt" credibility badge forever
• Early adopter community of tech-savvy power users
• Connections with other founders and potential investors

Product Hunt resets at 12:01am Pacific Time every day. Products launched on that day compete for "Product of the Day," "Week," and "Month" honors. Tuesday and Wednesday launches get the most traffic. Avoid Mondays (competitive) and weekends (less traffic).

Cost: $0. Commitment: ~2 weeks of preparation + 1 all-hands launch day.

PHASE 1: PRE-LAUNCH (2 Weeks Before Launch Day)

Week -2 (14 Days Before)

Day -14: Set Up Your Product Hunt Profile

• [ ] Create your personal Product Hunt account at producthunt.com (if you don't have one)
• [ ] Complete your profile: photo, bio, Twitter/X link, website
• [ ] Start engaging with PH: upvote products you genuinely like, leave thoughtful comments
• [ ] Goal: Build a profile with activity before your launch day (looks authentic vs. brand-new day-of)

Day -14: Find a Hunter

A "hunter" submits your product on your behalf. A well-known hunter can bring their follower notification list to your launch (free boost of upvotes).

How to find a hunter:

1. Go to producthunt.com/leaderboard/hunters — browse top hunters
2. Look for hunters who have hunted similar consumer/lifestyle apps
3. Check their Twitter/X (most are active there)
4. Send a genuine, short DM:

> "Hey [NAME]! Big fan of the products you've hunted — especially [SPECIFIC PRODUCT]. I'm launching DateNight next week — a free app that ends the 'what do you want to do?' debate for couples and groups (togetherplans.app). Would you be open to being the hunter? Happy to share the full product details and assets. Thanks!"

Backup plan: If no hunter responds, you can self-submit. Self-submitted products still rank well if your upvote game is strong.

Day -13: Prepare All Product Hunt Assets

Required:

• [ ] Product Name: "DateNight by TogetherPlans"
• [ ] Tagline (60 chars max): Stop debating. Start doing. Plan dates together.
• Alternative: The app that ends "what do you want to do?" forever
• [ ] Description (260 chars max): DateNight helps couples and friend groups stop arguing about what to do. Propose activities, vote together, and get instant consensus. 5 invite methods. Free on iOS + Android.
• [ ] Thumbnail: 240x240px square — app icon or branded illustration
• [ ] Gallery images (up to 5): App screenshots with headline overlays (see marketing report Section 9 for specs)
• [ ] Video (optional but recommended): Your "DateNight in 60 Seconds" demo video (see video-scripts.md)
• [ ] First comment: Prepared in advance (see Phase 2 below)
• [ ] Maker comment: Jake's personal "why I built this" story (pre-written, see below)

Day -12: Build Your Notify List

Product Hunt has a "Notify me on launch" feature. Get people to sign up BEFORE launch day.

• Share your Product Hunt "coming soon" page on:
• Twitter/X: "We're launching on Product Hunt next week — click to get notified ■ [link]"
• Instagram Stories: "Big week coming — we're launching on Product Hunt! Tap to get notified."
• LinkedIn (personal account): "I'm launching DateNight on Product Hunt — support would mean everything ■ [link]"
• Direct text to close friends/family: "Hey — can you click this and hit 'notify me'? Launching next week. Means a lot."

Goal: 50+ pre-launch notification signups

Day -10: Prepare Your Upvote Outreach List

Create a spreadsheet of every person you'll personally contact on launch day:

• Personal contacts (family, friends, college friends, coworkers, ex-colleagues)
• Professional contacts (investors, advisors, other founders)
• Online community members who know you (Twitter followers, Reddit friends, Discord members)
• Anyone who has expressed interest in the app

Target list: 100–200 people minimum.

For each person, draft your personalized message (see Phase 2 — launch day outreach templates below).

Day -8: Draft All Launch Day Content

Prepare the following in a Google Doc, ready to copy-paste on launch day:

• [ ] First comment (founder story) — see below
• [ ] 10 responses to common questions (anticipate what PH community will ask)
• [ ] Twitter announcement thread (see below)
• [ ] Email to your mailing list
• [ ] Instagram Story sequence
• [ ] TikTok video or Story

Day -7: Brief Your Inner Circle

Contact your 20 closest supporters directly:

> "Hey [NAME] — I'm launching DateNight on Product Hunt next [DAY]. I'm going to need your help between 12:01am and 5pm PST on that day. It's just one click — upvote the product. Can I count on you? I'll text you the link the morning of."

This personal ask has a much higher conversion rate than a broadcast message.

Day -5: Set Up Tracking

• Create a UTM link for your Product Hunt launch: togetherplans.app?utm_source=producthunt&utm;_medium=launch&utm;_campaign=ph_launch_day1
• Connect Google Analytics to track PH traffic separately
• Set up App Store Connect and Google Play Console dashboards to monitor download spikes

Day -2: Final Prep

• [ ] All assets uploaded and saved in PH draft (don't submit yet)
• [ ] Outreach messages written and ready to send
• [ ] Team / friends briefed and ready
• [ ] Social posts scheduled or ready to post manually
• [ ] Set alarm for 11:55pm Pacific the night before launch

PHASE 2: LAUNCH DAY CHECKLIST

Launch Day Timeline

11:55 PM Pacific (Night Before)

• [ ] Log into Product Hunt
• [ ] Coordinate with your hunter — confirm they're ready to submit at 12:01am

12:01 AM Pacific — GO LIVE

• [ ] Hunter submits (or you self-submit)
• [ ] Immediately upvote your own product
• [ ] Post the "Maker Comment" (first comment) — see below
• [ ] Share the PH link with your inner 20 circle immediately via text

12:01–6:00 AM Pacific

• [ ] Monitor the PH page — respond to any early comments
• [ ] Don't start the mass outreach yet (people are asleep; save for morning)

6:00 AM Pacific (9:00 AM Eastern)

• [ ] BEGIN MASS OUTREACH (see templates below)
• [ ] Post Twitter/X thread
• [ ] Post Instagram Story with "WE LAUNCHED ■" + PH link
• [ ] Post TikTok: "Big day — we're on Product Hunt today!"
• [ ] Post LinkedIn (personal): heartfelt founder post with PH link
• [ ] Send email to mailing list
• [ ] Post in relevant Slack communities and Discord servers

Throughout the Day

• [ ] Respond to EVERY Product Hunt comment within 30 minutes — all day
• [ ] Send personal outreach to your prepared list (text/DM each person individually)
• [ ] Monitor ranking — check your position hourly
• [ ] Thank everyone who upvotes publicly (Twitter replies, IG Stories)

6:00 PM Pacific — End of Voting Window

• [ ] Final push — text everyone who hasn't yet
• [ ] Post "a few hours left!" to all social channels
• [ ] Respond to any remaining comments

After 12:01 AM Pacific (next day)

• [ ] Product Hunt announces winners — check your final ranking
• [ ] Post results regardless of ranking: "We launched on Product Hunt! Thank you ■"
• [ ] Respond to any comments or questions that came in during the night

WHAT TO POST: MAKER COMMENT (First Comment — Pre-Write This)

This is the most important comment on your entire Product Hunt page. Write it now.

Post this as your first comment immediately after the product goes live. This is your "why I built this" story — make it human, not promotional.

[COPY THIS — customize the brackets]:

> Hey Product Hunt! ■ I'm Jake, the founder of DateNight.

>

> Quick version of why I built this:

>

> My partner and I were the couple who genuinely could not stop having this argument every single weekend:

>

> "What do you want to do tonight?"

> "I don't know, what do YOU want to do?"

>

> We'd go through 45 minutes of suggestions and vetoes, end up on the couch, and feel vaguely like we'd failed at being a couple that does things. It wasn't lack of options — [CITY] is full of stuff to do. It was the decision overhead.

>

> I looked for an app that solved this exact problem. There wasn't one.

>

> So I built DateNight.

>

> The core mechanic is simple: create a plan, add your activity options, invite your group, everyone votes, the app surfaces the consensus. No one person has to "be the one who decides." The democratic process does the work.

>

> We launched today on iOS and Android, completely free.

>

> I'd love to hear from the PH community:

> → Does this solve a problem you actually have?

> → What would you add?

> → What would make you recommend this to a couple or friend group?

>

> Thank you for being here for Day 1. This community means everything to indie founders. ■

>

> — Jake

> togetherplans.app

UPVOTE OUTREACH TEMPLATES

Template A: Text Message to Close Friends/Family

> "Hey [NAME]! Big day — we launched DateNight on Product Hunt today. Would mean SO much if you could give us an upvote — takes 10 seconds. Link: [PH LINK] Thanks ■ love you"

Template B: Text to Acquaintances/Colleagues

> "Hey [NAME]! Hope you're well. Quick ask — I launched my app DateNight on Product Hunt today. Ends at midnight. If you have 10 seconds to upvote I'd owe you one. [PH LINK] Thanks so much!"

Template C: Twitter/X DM

> "Hey [NAME]! We launched DateNight on Product Hunt today — it's the app that ends 'what do you want to do?' for couples and groups. Would love your support with an upvote if you have a second! [PH LINK] ■"

Template D: Slack/Discord (Community posts)

> "Hey [COMMUNITY NAME]! Huge day for me — I just launched DateNight on Product Hunt (I've been building this for [TIME] and it's finally live!). It's a free app that helps couples and friend groups reach consensus on what to do together instead of arguing about it forever. If you want to support an indie founder — any upvote or comment means the world. [PH LINK] Thank you ■"

Template E: Email to Professional Contacts

Subject: "Launching DateNight today on Product Hunt — quick favor?"

> Hi [NAME],

>

> Hope you're doing well! I'm launching DateNight on Product Hunt today — it's the free app I've been building to solve the "what do you want to do?" problem for couples and groups.

>

> If you have 30 seconds and want to support an indie founder, an upvote would mean the world: [PH LINK]

>

> No obligation at all — but genuinely grateful for any support.

>

> Best,

> Jake

SOCIAL POST CONTENT FOR LAUNCH DAY

Twitter/X Thread (Post at 6am Pacific):

> Tweet 1:

> today's the day. DateNight is live on Product Hunt ■

>

> TL;DR: I built the app that ends "what do you want to do?" forever.

>

> thread on why ■■

> Tweet 2:

> the problem: every couple and friend group has this conversation every single weekend. It almost never ends in going out. it ends in Netflix. (which is fine but also... not what anyone wanted)

> Tweet 3:

> I looked for an app that solved this. there wasn't one. there are restaurant finders and event ticketing apps and social calendars but nothing that specifically helps groups DECIDE together.

> Tweet 4:

> so i built DateNight. the mechanic: propose activities → everyone votes → consensus is automatic. no one has to "be the one who decides." democratic. fair. actually works.

> Tweet 5:

> today we're live on iOS, Android, and Product Hunt. free download.

>

> if you've ever had this argument — this is for you.

>

> [PH LINK] to upvote + try it ■

Instagram Story Sequence (Launch Day):

• Story 1: "WE LAUNCHED ■■■" — big text, brand colors, confetti
• Story 2: "DateNight is LIVE on the App Store and Google Play" — app icon + download badges
• Story 3: "AND we're on Product Hunt today" — PH logo + link sticker "Upvote us here"
• Story 4: "Thank you from the bottom of my heart to everyone who's been here since Day 1" — personal note

COMMENT STRATEGY: How to Respond to Product Hunt Comments

Respond to every comment. No exceptions. Do it within 30 minutes.

Common questions and suggested responses:

Q: "How is this different from just a group chat poll?"

> A: "Great question! The main differences: (1) The consensus engine ranks everyone's preferences mathematically vs. a simple majority vote — so it finds what the GROUP likes, not just what's most popular. (2) The activity discovery layer surfaces local options they might not have considered. (3) It reduces the social pressure of being the one who 'decides' — everyone votes privately. The group chat poll still has the meta-problem of 'who creates the poll and chooses the options.' We handle that too."

Q: "Why wouldn't people just use Google or Yelp?"

> A: "Both tools give you options — DateNight gives you a decision. Yelp is great for finding a specific restaurant once you've decided to go to a restaurant. But that first step — 'do we want dinner, or mini golf, or an escape room?' — that's the actual friction point. We start there."

Q: "Is there a paid tier?"

> A: "Right now it's completely free for all features. We'll eventually offer a premium tier with advanced features — but the core consensus mechanic will always be free. We want everyone to be able to stop arguing. ■"

Q: "What about privacy? Does the app see my location?"

> A: "Location is only used for the activity discovery feature, only when you request local suggestions, and you can decline entirely. We take privacy seriously — full policy at api.togetherplans.app/privacy. No data sold, ever."

AFTER LAUNCH: What To Do Next

Day +1:

• [ ] Post your result (even if not #1 — share the milestone)
• [ ] Thank your top supporters publicly on social
• [ ] Reply to any remaining PH comments
• [ ] Write a "Launch day recap" thread on Twitter — what happened, numbers, learnings

Day +2–7:

• [ ] Follow up with every journalist who engaged with your PH page
• [ ] Reach out to press: "DateNight launched on Product Hunt yesterday — [result] — here's the launch press release"
• [ ] Add "Featured on Product Hunt" badge to your website
• [ ] Send a post-launch email to your list: "We launched on PH and here's what happened"

Week +2:

• [ ] Analyze the PH traffic in Google Analytics — what pages did they visit? What converted?
• [ ] Identify the commenters who asked smart questions — these are your power users. Reach out personally.
• [ ] Consider submitting to Golden Kitty Awards (Product Hunt's annual best-of — submit in December)

KEY PRODUCT HUNT RULES

1. You CANNOT ask people to upvote on Product Hunt's platform itself (in comments). You CAN ask via external channels (text, email, DM, social).

2. Upvotes from new accounts with no history may be discounted by PH's algorithm. That's okay — focus on real contacts with existing PH accounts.

3. Comments matter as much as upvotes for ranking. Substantive conversation on your product page signals genuine interest.

4. Don't submit on weekends — traffic is 40% lower and competition is unpredictable.

5. The first 4 hours are critical — early momentum affects your ranking algorithm position for the whole day. Your inner circle must move fast in the morning hours.

6. Be genuine — PH is a community. The makers who win are those who show up authentically, not those who game the system. Your real story (built this for my own couple frustration) is compelling. Use it.

Good luck, Jake. You've got this. ■

DateNight / TogetherPlans | togetherplans.app | hello@togetherplans.app